NEW PROGRAMME OPPORTUNITIES

IMPROVE YOUR CHESS

Stouffville's own chess Master, Michael Kennedy invites current chess players to enhance their skills. Based on the comprehensive chess method published by Alburk and Pelts, players will be encouraged to develop their tactical skills using the fork, pin, discovered check and skewer. Basic checkmating concepts and various game ending studies will be introduced. For more advanced players, instruction will include Hypermodern and gambit opening strategies.

Location: Multi-Purpose Room - Rec. Complex
Days: Thursdays 7:00 - 8:30 P.M. - Jan. 8 to Mar. 19, '98
Fee: $55. All Ages Welcome

IMPROV COMEDY AND LIFE SKILLS

Looking for a way to deal with life's challenging moments. Try a little humor, it can go a long way. Participants will develop skills to "respond to the moment", stop second guessing yourself, and to use your instincts. Improv will help participants tap into the "right side of your brain" the home of creativity! Improv is an excellent medium to reduce our inhibitions, develop our creativity and enhance personal confidence.

Join Al Catlin, an alumnus of Second City, author of six stage reviews, and improv workshop teacher of beginners to performance level comics.

Location: Recreation Complex
Days: Jan. 22, 1998, 7:00-9:30 p.m.
Fee: $35
