

Spartan senior girls spike up a storm on the court

BRUCE STAPLEY
Correspondent

The Stouffville District Secondary School (SDSS) Spartans senior girls' volleyball team did some serious house cleaning on two fronts in recent action.

The Spartans took out the broom to sweep their sets with Markville S.S. and the host Father McGivney C.H.S. squads Monday (Jan. 12), then repeated the feat at home against Unionville H.S. and Middlefield C.I. Wednesday.

The victories left the Spartans atop the York Region Athletic Association South East Division standings with an unblemished record of eight wins and no defeats.

Meanwhile, the midget Spartans were toughing it out on the court, managing a split Monday while falling just short Wednesday. The Spartans went to the limit in their four machines. Monday, they defeated McGivney in three games, while it took Markham H.S. three games to finally subdue the SDSS outfit. The Spartans were edged out in three games against both Unionville and Middlefield Wednesday. Coach Sue Leroy said her team deserved praise for coming so close against such formidable opposition. "We lost on the scoreboard, but we were winners in terms of team spirit and demonstrating solid skills on the floor," said Leroy.

"Unionville and Middlefield are two of the toughest teams in a very competitive division."

The midget Spartans are to host a tournament at the SDSS gym Friday (Jan. 23), with eight teams from York and Durham Regions taking part.

Both Spartans teams see league action again Monday (Jan. 19) at Middlefield, before travelling to Milliken Mills S.S. Wednesday.

HOOPING IT UP

On the basketball court, the SDSS Spartans junior boys' hoops squad improved its record to two wins and three defeats with a resounding 74-45 victory over Markham H.S. Tuesday on the road. Bruce Lachance led the way offensively with 26 points, while Jim Apolanatos was right behind with 25 points.

The midget Spartans dropped their match with Markham the same day despite a 17-point effort from Ben Bellissimo. Jason Davis had five points for the SDSS crew, with Shane Timms picking up four points.

Both Spartans hoops teams are at home to McGivney on Tuesday.
