Dispatchers thanked

Dispatchers are valued members of your emergency services—and you should thank them this week.

York Regional Council wants to recognize the profound importance of telecommunications—who link local citizens and public safety professionals, between April 12 and 18.

"Clear, concise and timely communications are vital to the success of York Region's emergency services," said a motion presented last week.

Council was asked to resolve that the citizens of York Region be asked to acknowledge those dispatchers, 9-1-1 call takers and other call takers who provide such outstanding service to their communities and the region.

The motion did not say how such acknowledgement would take place, however.
