Library presents expansion plans

A $2-million question is being asked at Whitchurch-Stouffville council tonight.

Jan Williams, chairperson of the Whitchurch-Stouffville Library Board is slated to explain why a major library expansion is needed.

A feasibility study recently carried out by Beckman Associates Library Consultants and Cameron Consulting Services shows that the $2 million expense will see the 6,400-square-foot library grow to measure 20,000 square feet. The expansion will include a separate area for children's reading material, a local history and genealogical section, a study room and meeting rooms.

GENEROUS GIFT

Tom Thibeault and son Bruce, 3, present 74 adult and children movie videos to Catherine Sword of the Stouffville Library to expand their list of titles available for lending. The library would love to get more movie videos, so if you have any extras in your home, please bring them in.
