Police issue pyramid warning

The Ontario Illegal Gaming Enforcement Unit is cautioning the public that participation in pyramid schemes is illegal.

The warning follows complaints received from across Ontario, including York and Durham regions, concerning a pyramid or multi-level marketing scheme. The scheme requires an initial investment, and commission or earnings are dependent upon participation by other investors.

On one occasion, investors are asked to pay a specific sum of money via an international money order to a firm in Italy. Investors were also required to pay a sum of money to two other persons in Canada. Compensation is dependent upon recruitment of additional participants by the selling of certificates. The scheme has been operating in Ontario for several months and appears to contravene both the Criminal Code of Canada and the Competition Act.
