

SPOOKY RIDE

The York-Durham Heritage Railway ended a successful season with a Halloween train ride between Uxbridge and Goodwood stations last Saturday night. The event brought out large crowds of people dressed up for the occasion. The ride was in so much demand, in fact, 30 people almost had to wave goodbye from the station, but everyone eventually found a seat on the five-car train. Organizers say next year they'll extend the Halloween ride over two nights to accommodate the number of people interested. In this photo, Kevin Parks of Stouffville enjoys the ride with mom, Jennifer.
