Vacmaster TIP OF THE WEEK
How often should you service your vacuum?

That really depends on use. If you vacuum once a week and change your belt once a year, then you should service your vacuum every 2 years. If you use your vacuum daily, then service your vacuum at least once a year. Accumulated dirt and dust in the motor bearings slow down the motor causing motor failure that may even present a fire hazard. Keep your vacuum working at its maximum cleaning efficiency.

Luxurbath – specializing in bathroom design and renovations

Most people dread the thought of trying to find the right professionals to remodel their bathroom. But with the Luxurbath, the choice is easy. Family owned and operated, Luxurbath has been redesigning and remodeling bathrooms for over 31 years.

"Many people claim they have the knowledge to remodel bathrooms, only to find out that they are fly by night renovators or general contractors that don't specialize in one field," said Mike Vuirro, who owns Luxurbath.

"At Luxurbath, we specialize in bathroom remodeling. To the customer this means they are guaranteed professionals with years of hands-on experience and the utmost attention to fine details."

Luxurbath can create the bathroom of your dreams.

OLD-FASHIONED SERVICE

Focusing on tight control guidelines, Luxurbath will complete every job efficiently and right the first time.

Luxurbath is so confident in their quality materials and workmanship that they offer an extended warranty of six years as opposed to the industry standard of five.

But quality workmanship isn't the only thing Luxurbath offers – they provide convenience to the customer by offering their extensive shop at home service where colour and fixture selections can be made in the comfort of their own home.

Mike said that providing a shop at home service over a fancy showroom will save the customer unnecessary overhead costs and inconvenient travel time.

Luxurbath keeps in close contact with the customer throughout the remodeling process. They can also add their personal touch of modern faux style painting done by their exclusive painting specialist, Cheryl.

As an added part of Luxurbath's service, any created garbage is removed from the home and disposed of.

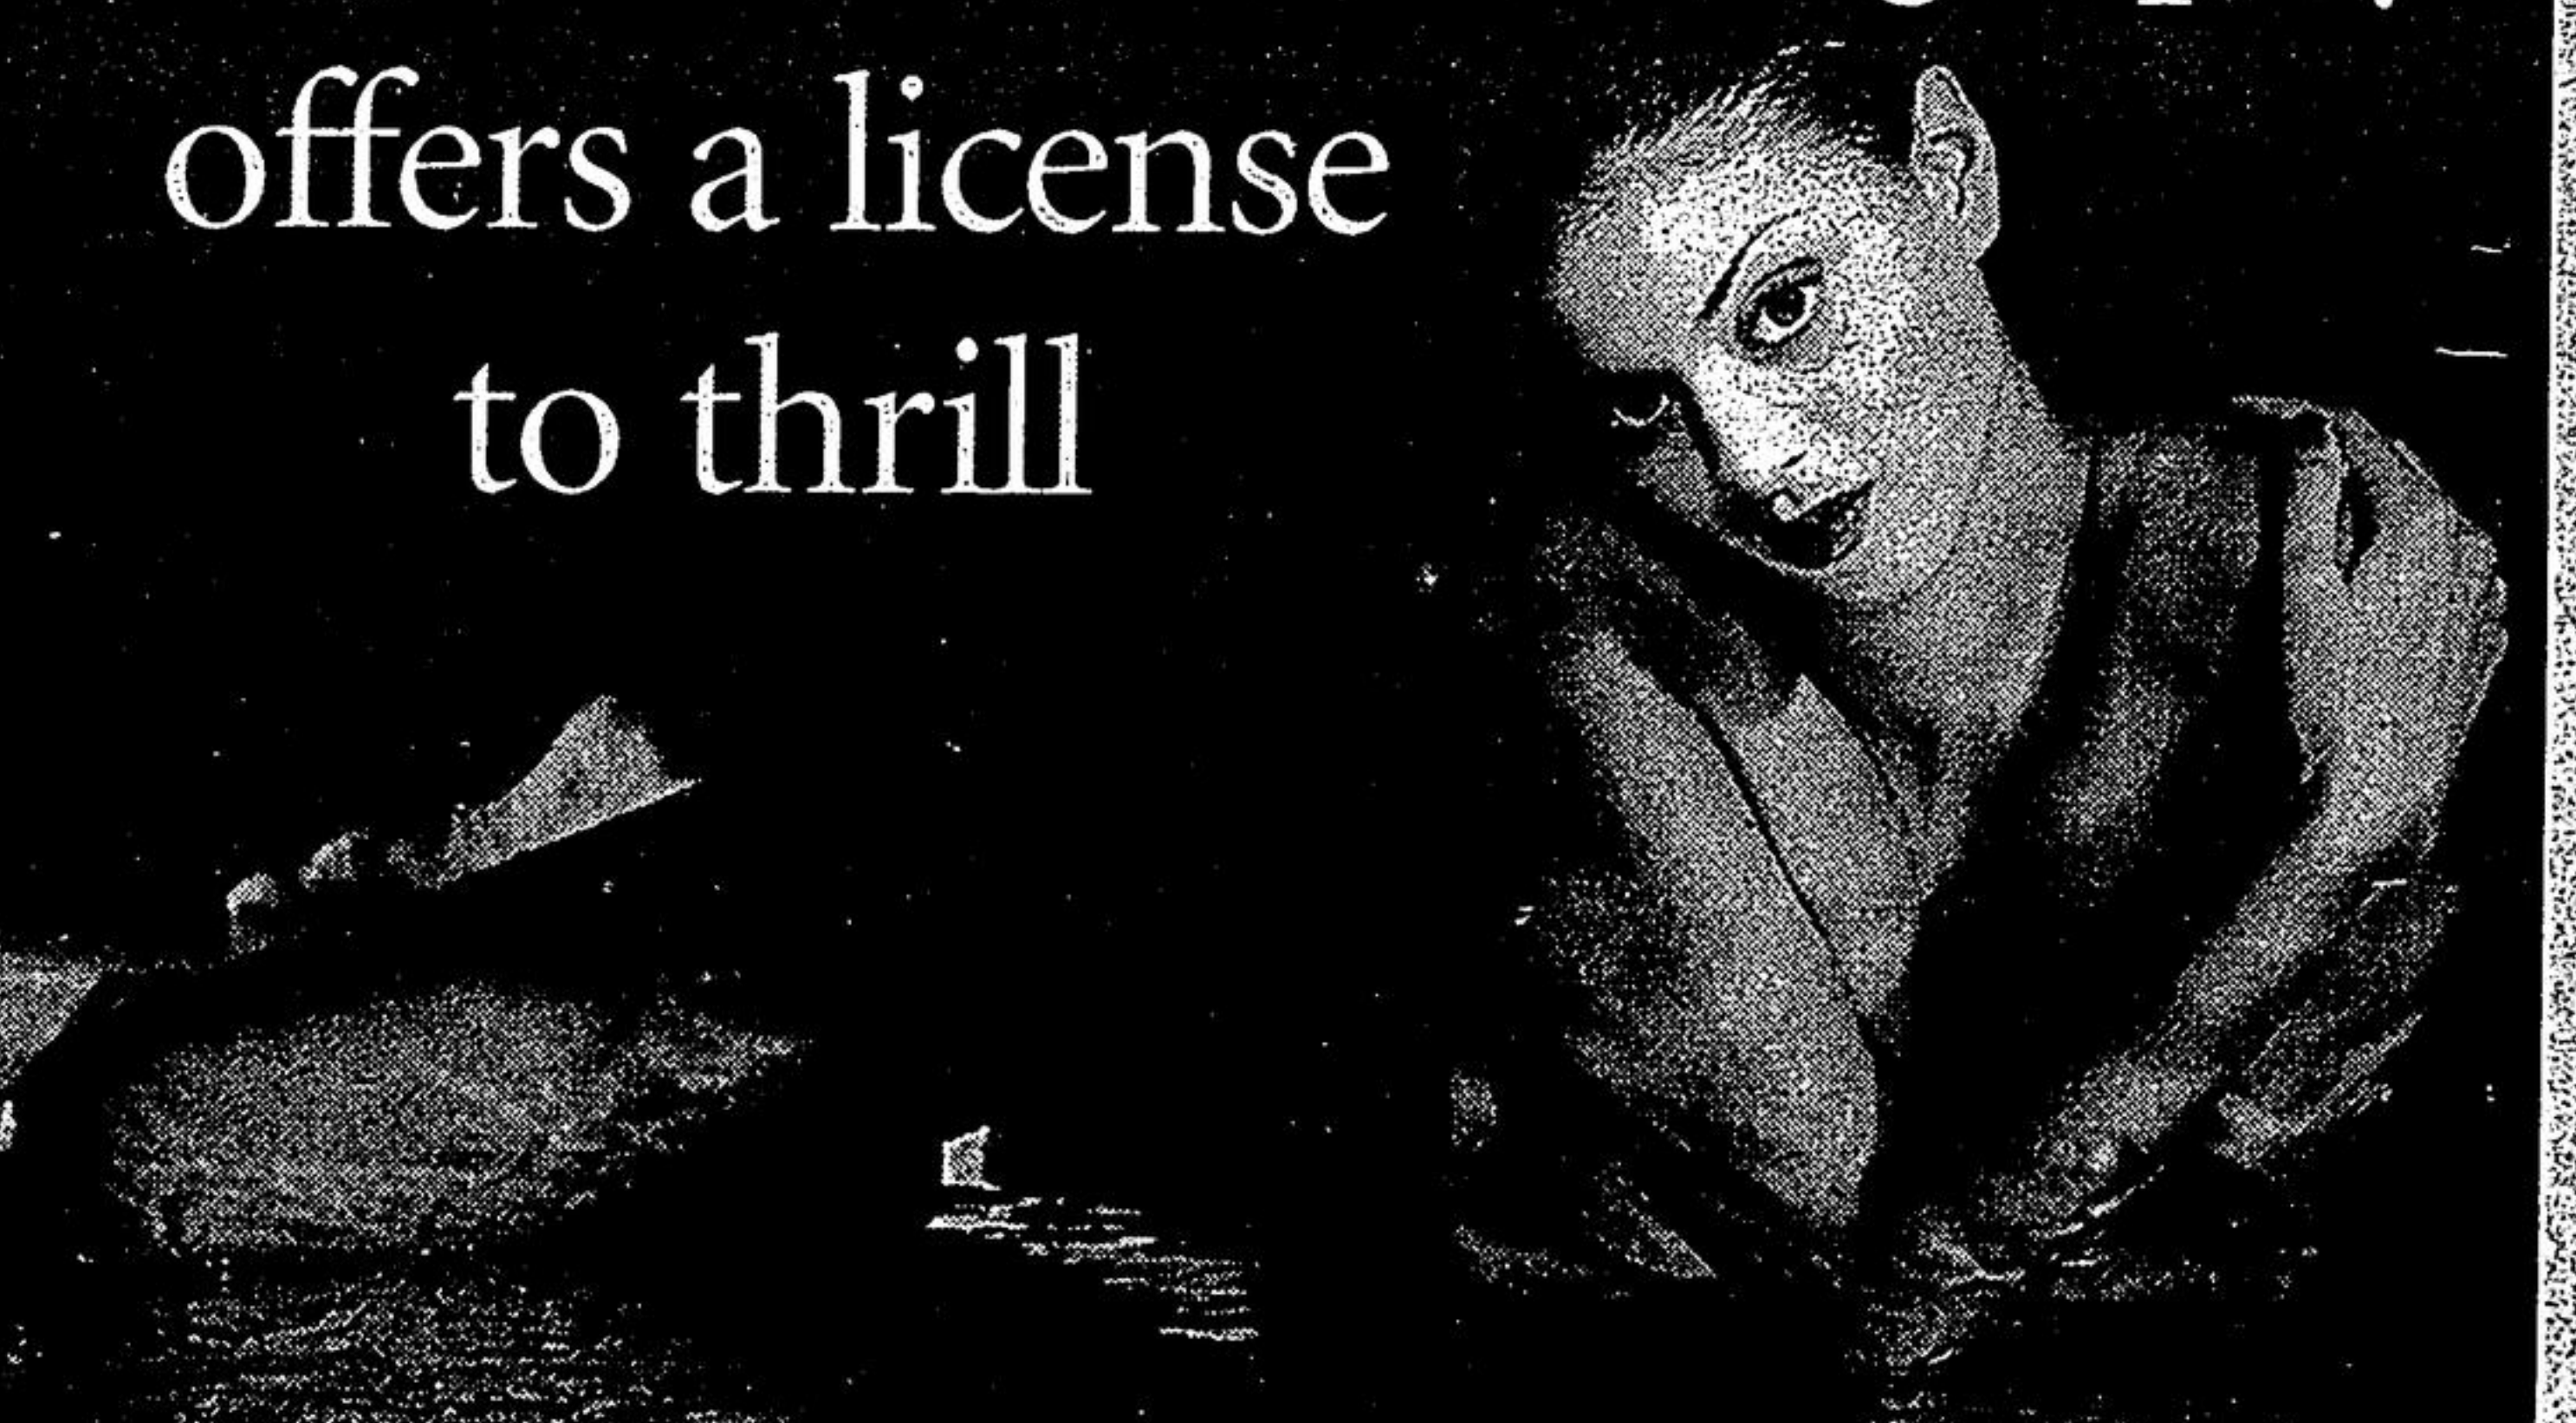

Serving Markham, Unionville and the surrounding areas for many years, references are available from many satisfied customers.

So if you're in the market for a bathroom renovation, Luxurbath is your one stop bathroom shop.

For details call Luxurbath at 1-888-PRO-RENO or 905-426-6008.
 And remember – make your bath a Luxurbath.

offers a license to thrill

Roger Carlsen has been creating unique photographs for models portfolios, magazine covers, catalogues, weddings and more, for over 25 years.

Roger Carlsen has an eye for making something ordinary look extraordinary. Using natural and artificial lighting, numerous locations – from the balcony of his apartment, to Main Street Markham to the Scarborough Bluffs – as well different props and darkroom techniques, Carlsen creates unique photographs.

"My clients are more open-minded," said the high-energy photographer who enjoys creating visually-stimulating photographs. "I offer a more alternative style of photography."

Well-known for his unique wedding photographs, Carlsen has become much sought-after for his work with models.

Both men and women flock to Carlsen to create their portfolio because of his knack for creating photographs with a twist. But that is not all Carlsen does. Carlsen shows his versatility by doing boudoir photography (two pictures recently appeared in the Toronto Sun), catalogues, hair magazines, brochures, equestrian portraits, family portraits, copy work as well as photo retouching.

But, Carlsen said he enjoys any work that allows him to be creative.

"With lighting and setting, photography is almost like shooting a movie. I love to direct the whole shoot."

For details call Carlsen at 294-2722. Carlsen's studio is located at 124 Studio C on Main Street Markham or email at rogercarlsen@idirect.com
