

RING THE BELLS

Salvation Army kettles can be found throughout Markville Shopping Centre this Christmas season. Donating the first cash in the kettle is Markham Regional Councillor Ralph Aselin, left, helped out by Marion Norton, Salvation Army director of community services, centre, and Kathleen Barthau, Kiwanis Club of Markham volunteer. The kettles are now open and being staffed by volunteers in the shopping centre. They are a major fundraiser for the Salvation Army, and the money is used towards Christmas projects.
