Hakonson happy with effort, remains optimistic with club's future

FROM PAGE 16

The Spirit were without Phil Barski, Scott Martin, Beau Llewellyn, newcomer Justin Thickens, and Ryan Bowen, who was a no-show for the second straight game.

Forward Sean Scully and defenceman Andrew Archer played well upon were called up from the Richmond Hill AAA bantam Stars.

Sunday night in Newmarket, the Spirit came out flying, outshooting the Hurricanes 9-3 in the first period.

But Jason Read's fifth goal of the year was all the scoring they could muster and they had to settle for a 1-1 tie after 20 minutes.

The Hurricanes scored twice in the second as they held a narrow 10-9 edge in shots.

In the brawl-marked third, it was all Newmarket as the Hurricanes scored four goals while holding a 21-6 edge in shots on goal.

"We played well," said Spirit owner Ed Hakonson.

"I can't fault them. We played a great first period, and we stayed with them in the second.

"But we were in the penalty box for most of the third."

Hakonson blamed the Hurricanes for the third-period eruption.

"It all started when Newmarket sent their goon out to run (Spirit goalkeeper) Andrew Harper."

Like Burrows, Hakonson believes the best is yet to come for the Spirit.

"We'll definitely be in the playoffs. It's just a case of who we play."

He allowed that it will be essential to finish higher than seventh or eighth so they can avoid the first and second place teams in the first round of the playoffs.

"If we finish eighth it's going to be a rough playoff," he conceded.

The Spirit are tied with the Thornhill Rattlers with 28 points.

The Stouffville club doesn't see league action again until Jan. 2.

But before that game, the club will participate in the 28-team Newmarket Showcase Tournament from Dec. 27-30.

The Spirit are in Division B along with the Brampton Capitals and Huntsville Wildcats of the Provincial League, and Parry Sound of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association.

The Spirit take on Parry Sound in its first game on Dec. 27 at 9 a.m. at the Aurora Community Centre.

They will then face the Huntsville at 3:45 p.m. on the same day at the Ray Twinney Centre's B complex.

The Spirit will close out the preliminary round robin against Brampton on Dec. 28 at 3:45 p.m. at the Ray Twinney A complex.

The playoff round takes place Dec. 29 and 30, with the championship final slated for 7:30 p.m. Dec. 30 at the Twinney A complex.

ED HAKONSON
Is optimistic Spirit can qualify for playoffs
