

Markham Printing wins Best Printing Shop Award

Markham Printing is small enough to care, but big enough to take care of all your printing needs.

"We are your complete printing service," said Linda Tustin, who owns the company with her father Malcolm Whetter and her brother Paul.

Markham Printing, which has been taking care of people in Markham and the surrounding areas for the past 29 years, offers a range of services from printing brochures and flyers to business cards and labels.

They can also print programs and newsletters, reports, tickets, wedding invitations, rubber stamps and more.

While printing is their main focus, Markham Printing also offers, among other things, desktop publishing, foil stamping, round cornering and stapling.

They also offer a complete photocopying service. And almost everything is completed right in their Bullock Drive office.

PERSONAL SERVICE

Because Markham Printing is a small, family-owned business, customers still receive personalized service.

"We always try to accommodate people. We can't always do the impossible, but we always strive to do whatever the customer needs — and to meet their deadlines. If we are unable to do it, we do our best to tell them up front."

Markham Printing is located at 80 Bullock Dr. Unit 7. For details call 294-5242.

Trillium Montessori wins Best Private School

Trillium Montessori School is an independent, co-educational school located in Unionville. Accommodating students from pre-school to Grade 8, Trillium believes in a balanced approach to education. High academic standards are successfully merged with social opportunities and life experiences to develop the whole child.

From pre-school to kindergarten, the school adopts the Montessori methodology in its teaching. This child-centered approach to education immerses children in an environment that is stimulating, well-structured and disciplined. Students learn through hands-on experiences.

The curriculum set out by the Ministry of Education forms the minimum standards of the elementary program. Trillium believes that students learn most effectively when expectations are high and the academic environment challenges them to reach their full potential. All students are given opportunities for academic enrichment and trained to become creative, independent thinkers.

The staff at Trillium is committed to providing the best education possible. This not only takes into consideration a strong academic program, but the moral, social and emotional development as well. At Trillium, there is a warm and supportive school environment in which students are encouraged to participate and excel in all areas of school life.

This includes, among other things, sports, stage productions, outdoor education and music festivals.

The friends they meet and the experiences they have are ones that Trillium students will remember and cherish. The knowledge, skills and attitudes toward learning that students acquire will stand them in good stead, and will help ensure success in all their future academic and occupational pursuits.
