Massage parlour firebombed second time

The Ontario fire marshal has been called in after fire caused more than $5,000 damage to a Beaver Creek massage parlour early Monday.

York Regional Police Sgt. John Sheldon said it is the second time in the last two months the Massage Bambi Studio has been firebombed.

Police were called to the East Wilmot Street massage parlour by firefighters shortly before 5 a.m., he said.

There was evidence of a Molotov cocktail being the cause of the fire.

No one was hurt as a result of the incident, but employees were in the massage parlour, Sheldon said.

"A victim heard breaking glass, she came to the front and found a fire," he said.

The sprinkler system was activated. While police do not know if any customers were in the building, no injured were reported.

"It appears there was considerable water damage to the premises."

Man bound, beaten and robbed in home invasion

York Regional Police have charged two men with possession of stolen property after a Richmond Hill man was pistol-whipped during a home invasion Monday morning.

A 19-year-old man responded to a knock at the front door of his Spadina Avenue home at around 10:30 a.m., Sgt. John Sheldon said yesterday, where he was confronted by two unknown men, one with a handgun.

The man was pistol-whipped and dragged to the basement, where his hands and eyes were bound with duct tape. The thugs searched the home for valuables.

After gathering up a quantity of cash and jewelry, as well as two rifles and ammunition, the bandits fled, Sheldon said.

The firearms were legally owned. The victim was taken to York Central Hospital and treated for facial injuries.

Hold-up squad investigators worked through the night, Sheldon said.

Police are being tight-lipped about information that led them to execute numerous search warrants.

"(Police) don't know if it was random or targeted, it's still being investigated," Sheldon said.

The victim's property, including the rifles, has been recovered as a result of the searches.

A 26-year-old Markham man and 30-year-old Scarborough man face charges of possession of stolen property over $5,000. They were to appear in Newmarket court for a bail hearing yesterday.

Cap from gas can discovered near Stouffville car fire

Police believe a car fire in Stouffville Tuesday was deliberately set.

A 1989 Pontiac 6000 was found engulfed in flames on Faulker Avenue about 12:30 p.m. when police and firefighters arrived.

A gas cap from a portable gas can was found about 20 feet from the burning car.

Damage is estimated at $1,500.
