'Phone me,' dad asks killer

"She went out and never came back," her father, Magdy Ebrahim, said in an interview. "She didn't come back. I don't know why anyone would hurt her. She was a good girl, a wonderful girl."

To the shotgun-toting thug who, in mere seconds, ended his daughter's young life, Ebrahim had this to say: "Phone me. Tell me why you killed Sandy. Tell me she insulted you or did something. Just tell me why," he implored. "Did she hurt you? Did she say something bad to you? I have to know."

Upon visiting Sandy's grave Thursday, in the pouring rain, the popular teen's parents and 11-year-old brother, Andrew, soon discovered they weren't alone.

Many of Sandy's friends, oblivious to the downpour, had already arrived to pay tearful tribute to their friend.

"I was very touched by that," Sandy's father said as he wiped away tears. "I never realized how much people loved Sandy. That has helped a lot."

A few feet to his right, on the front porch of the family's Streetsville home, lies another tribute to his daughter. Dozens of colourful bouquets of flowers, deposited by well-wishers and growing in number by the hour, welcome visitors up the steps and towards the front door.

It was about 11:30 p.m. last Sunday when Sandy's birthday celebration with her family came to an end. Still in a joyous mood, she asked her parents if she could go to a friend's west Erin Mills home for the night, where other close pals would be joining them.

In the absence of a motive for the killing, investigators said Ebrahim may simply have been in the wrong place at the wrong time. The driver of the Navigator is described as a black or Indian male, dark-skinned, about 18 to 22 years old.

The second culprit is a black male, with a medium-to-dark complexion, thin build, long lean face and wearing some type of cloth over his face. Police are pleading with anyone who has information to call Mulholland in the Major Crimes Unit at 881-1221, ext. 7865.
