Sheraton Antiques Ltd.

You will discover high quality mahogany, oak, walnut and satin wood antiques at Sheraton Antiques Ltd.

Sue and Andy Munro opened Sheraton Antiques 13 years ago in Stouffville. The store moved to its present location three years ago.

"We were looking for a historic setting that would compliment the older furniture," Sue said.

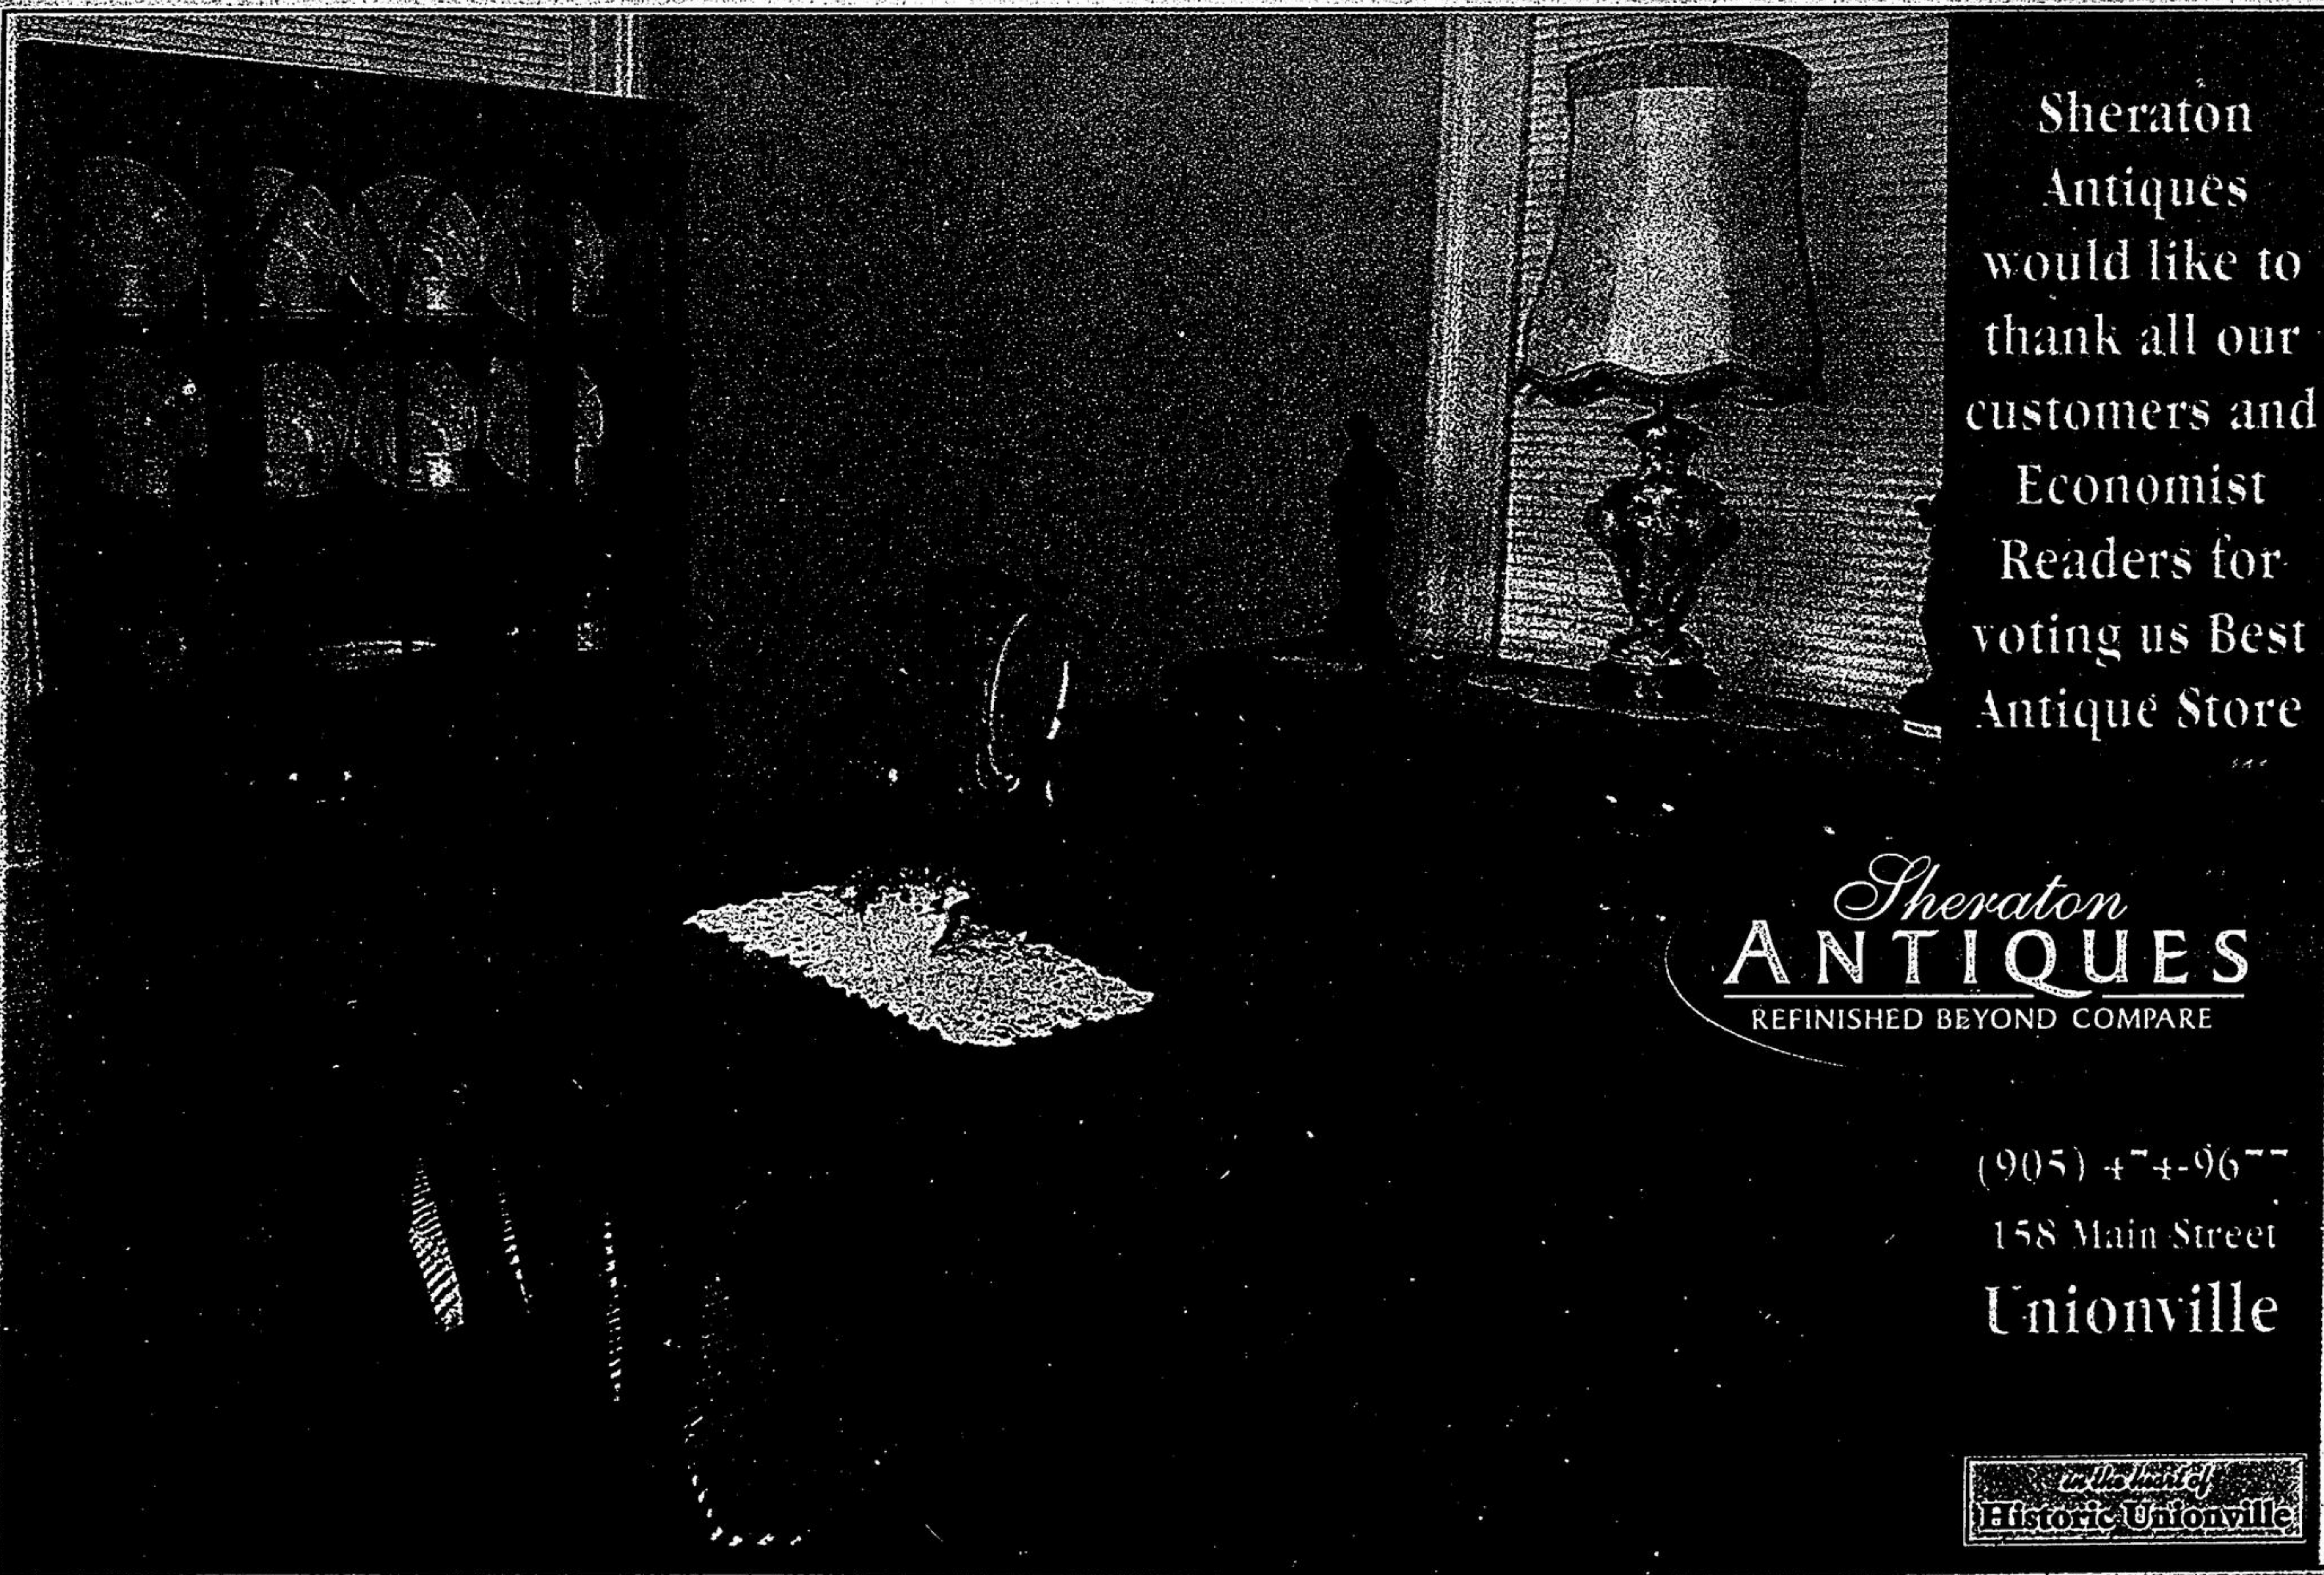

Clients can discover beautiful antiques

as well as a few reproduction pieces.

Although Sheraton's collection changes frequently, people can always find dining room suites, dressers and more. The couple are also able to show people how they can identify antique furnishings as well as share the history of each piece.

Sheraton also does refinishing in their off-site workshop.

Sheraton Antiques is located at 158 Main St. Unionville. For details call 474-9677.

Sheraton Antiques would like to thank all our customers and Economist Readers for voting us Best Antique Store
