

Try your hand at reporting and be our next Citizen on Assignment

If you have news to share with the community and would like to try your hand at being a reporter, you could be a Citizen on Assignment for the Markham Economist & Sun or the Stouffville Tribune. Here is what you'll need:

- The Story Idea — whether it's your parents' 50th wedding anniversary, a special class fundraising project, your daughter's award or your neighbourhood's achievement. The next step is to pitch your idea to the editor.
- The Assignment — if the editor gives you the go-ahead, you'll need to attend the event and/or arrange interviews. So when you're on assignment, make sure you collect plenty of information and quotes from the people involved in your story. Bring a notebook, a couple of pens, a tape recorder if you feel that will help ensure the accuracy of your quotes and a 35-mm camera, if you have one.
- The Deadline — you will be required to write your story to a deadline determined by the editor. Arrangements can be made for weekend deliveries.
- Here is what we'll provide:
 - A tip sheet prepared by our staff that will help you write your news story.
 - A Citizen on Assignment T-shirt.
 - A roll of 35-mm colour film. We will process the film and give you the photographs after your story has been published in the newspaper.

Call news editor Julie Caspersen at (905) 294-2200.
