Makeover contest gives winner a needed change

BY LISA CARTWRIGHT

For Romy Lupis, a full-time Procter & Gamble employee and mother of three, it was time for a change.

The former Stouffville resident, who was in the middle of a stressful move to her new home in Newmarket, had the same look for the past seven years.

"I really needed a change," said Lupis. "I knew I needed to do something with my hair, but I didn't know what."

Lupis entered the Stouffville Tribune and Markham Economist & Sun makeover contest and was ecstatic when she was informed she was the winner.

On July 22, she went to Hairways VIP Salon and Spa and let the hairstylist and make-up artist do their magic.

Chris Popovski, owner of Hairways VIP, had a consultation session with Lupis.

"We discussed who she was, what her lifestyle was like, her family and her work schedule, so we could discover what look would be best for her."

Lupis' needs were simple. She wanted a look that was fun, yet easy to maintain.

"For her cut we choose a soft, shaggy bob with lots of movement and body."

The look we chose works very well with her hair texture as well as her lifestyle."

Lupis' hair was dark brown, with reddish brown ends and some grey.

Hairways VIP chose a light brown base with subtle highlights.

"The highlights were meant to be natural, with just enough (colour) to notice to contrast in the hair."

Popovski also cut Lupis' hair.

"I dropped by Stouffville to show my friends and they couldn't believe it."

(worked on me) was great. I am really happy about the results."

Lupis also swung by Stouffville on her way home from the salon.

"I dropped by Stouffville to show my friends and they couldn't believe it."

YOU CAN WIN A MAKEOVER

You too can win a makeover care of the Markham Economist & Sun and Stouffville Tribune. Just fill out the ballot and mail or fax it to one of the offices. Just one entry per person please.

Participants must be available during the day and be willing to do whatever changes the hairdresser suggests.

Makeovers take approximately three hours to complete.

Ballots are thrown out after each month, so participants are encouraged to enter each time.
