

'Then he put back in drive and hit the man'

From page 1

Suleman, who had only met the teen once before, spotted him at a bus stop between 1:30 and 2 a.m. that night. Suleman agreed to drive him home to Morningside Avenue in Scarborough.

The passenger told Suleman he was going to have a quick nap on the way and put his seat back. He said he was awakened by Suleman's erratic driving.

"I thought what's goin' on here man, and then he said undercovers tryin' to follow us," the passenger said. While stopped at a stop sign a short time later, Wiche approached the driver's side of the Jeep on foot. The following is from the transcript of the interview.

"...he was telling the guy to pull over. And then he took out his badge, you know. Then as soon as this guy saw the officer walkin' he hit the gas... then he said I'm going to lose them.

"Then finally this guy said, 'I'm gonna pull the car over, right, get ready to run, get ready to run... then he puts it in park. Then he was the one to get out of the car. The police officer came to him, then he said freeze. Then he looked to me like this, he said shit and he took it out (of gear). Then he put it in drive. Then he was leaving, then put in reverse. Then he put back in drive and hit the man."

"The policeman?" asked Wassink.
 "Yeah. I don't know if it was an accident or if it was on purpose. I'm not sure.

He hit him and then after that I was looking at him like this. Then after that just heard a gunshot, then the mirror broke, you know bump, something hit me over here. I didn't know what it was and I got down on the floor cause I didn't want to get shot, you know. Then that's it I look at this guy and then he was like this (puts head down) and then the car kept goin', it was speeding up. His leg was on a... on the gas or somethin', all his weight was droppin' there or somethin'. Cause the car kept speedin' up and then it went rrrr, and then it came to cars that were parked at a garage and it hit them."

Later in the transcript, the passenger said Wiche was at the front of the driver's side, just ahead of the driver's door when the Jeep struck him.
