York Durham Sewage System Odour Control Long Term Strategy NOTICE OF STUDY

The York Durham Sewage System (YDSS) was put into service in the late 1970's and early 1980's and has, through continuous improvement, provided progressive containment and treatment of sanitary wastewater. The YDSS consists of a series of gravity sewers, pumping stations, and forcemains terminating at the Duffin Creek Water Pollution Control Plant (WPCP) in Durham Region. In York Region, the YDSS currently services the municipalities of Aurora, Newmarket, Markham, Richmond Hill, and Vaughan. Since its inception, odour has been an issue in various parts of the YDSS. The purpose of this notice is to advise interested parties and members of the public of the study that is currently being undertaken by the Region.

The intent of the Odour Control Long Term Strategy is to identify odour sources within the YDSS and develop a long term strategy for phased implementation of recommended odour control and/or mitigation measures. This study will provide the Region with capital and operating budgets, and will also identify future requirements for the Region's proposed expansions to the YDSS.

If you would like further information on the project, or wish to provide input, please contact the following:
