with a 4-3 loss to Barrie in the title game.

In reaching the final, Markham defeated Jordan 10-3, Hagersville 4-1 and Parris 4-3. The lone loss came at the hands of Barrie 6-1.

Vanessa DiMartino scored all three goals for Markham in its final game. Other players that contributed to the club's effort were: Carling Cresswell, Laura Dowling, Michelle Dowling, Melissa Farwell, Shannon Hamar, Britt Kleine, Eva Lane, Audrey Litwiller, Christyn Oda, Andrea Onn, Anne Santiago, Lindsay Unterlander and Heather Wadsworth.

Thorburn-Smith a candidate

Colleen Thorburn-Smith was one of 17 players who made the first cut when Softball Canada pared its women's softball team roster down from 23 invitees to a selection camp in preparation for the 2000 Summer Olympics in Sydney, Australia.

The 27-year-old former Unionville resident is a catcher who is in the hunt for one of 15 spots that the national team will hold.

Thorburn-Smith took part with the national team in the 1996 Olympics in Atlanta when the sport made its debut as a medal event.
