are preferable as well. On the chair's base, large casters ensure easy mobility on wood, vinyl or low pile carpet floors.

The choice of fabric can affect your comfort level and the durability of the chair. For instance, leather costs more, but it's the most durable, and it's easy to keep clean.

For higher end chairs, executive and managerial chairs are available with pneumatic gas lift height control, back and seat adjustment, tilt tension control and contoured foam.

Above all, you be the judge about what is comfortable and what isn't. If a chair feels awkward at first, don't compromise. Keep searching until you find the perfect fit.
