Dressing up your windows and doors

The simulated divided light window offers a clear advantage over the older, true-divided light window. With standard divided light you have the authentic look of true-divided light, with increased energy efficiency.

Depending on your style and budget, grid bars, Prairie style grills and fancy detailing are available. The shape of your window can even be curved or angled to a half round or octagonal shape.

An assortment of grill patterns such a diamond or rectangular shape are available in many colours and sizes. These grill patterns are available in vinyl, brass and a antique leaded grill coming, and are guaranteed not to discolour.

Some of the more exotic wood frames include straight-grained, laminated veneer and finger-jointed styles. Aluminum, fiberglass and vinyl options can be incorporated into new home designs or can replace existing frames.

Whatever your style or budget, there are plenty of aesthetically pleasing door and window accessories to dress up your home's exterior this summer. Be adventurous, be original; searching for the right decorative elements is half the fun.
