Amalgamation of York's fire departments 'coming': Mayor

From page 1.

WAYNE EMMERSON: Mayor wishes firefighters had talked to town before joining international union.

ed," said Emmerson. "I would have liked the opportunity to be given the chance to meet with the firefighters before they made the decision to join a union. I didn't know they had a problem. I felt we were getting along fine. I felt they were being treated fairly.

"I also worry about how this will affect our part-time firefighter brigade. I'm not too worried about the public. The firefighters are essential service. They can't go out on strike."

Winters said the decision to organize was based on "a desire to provide the highest level of public safety for the community in which we serve as well as to gain access to a vast amount of the latest in education and information in fire safety."

The plan to have all fire departments in York Region eventually amalgamate has influenced the Whitchurch-Stouffville firefighters' decision to unionize, said Emmerson. "Amalgamation is behind this. Well, I can tell you, amalgamation is coming."

By being unionized, the firefighters will be given "a voice during the amalgamation process, which has been happening recently in York Region," said Winters. "The six local firefighters have no arguments with their jobs. The decision was not based on labour relations and it is business as usual as far as our local is concerned," he said.

A first-class firefighter in Whitchurch-Stouffville earns $56,335 a-year. The chief makes between $76,000 and $84,273 and the deputy chief earns between $66,629 and $73,871. Neither the chief nor the deputy chief are members of the union.

The IAFF represents more than 240,000 firefighters across North America. While its head office is in the U.S., its Ontario office, with a full-time staff, is based in Ottawa, explained Winters.

Both Winters and Emmerson expect to form a good working relationship. "We look forward to developing a positive and cooperative relationship with the corporation," said Winters.

"Of course, I respect the firefighters' right to form a union. We'll get along," said Emmerson.

"Most fitness programs fail. Mine are designed to succeed!"

A lot of my clients are people who joined a fitness club and stopped going after a few visits.

They find them too crowded, too busy and too intimidating.

Not at my club.

I treat you as an individual. Most of my clients are in their 30's or over. My Total Personal Fitness programs are specifically designed to fit your lifestyle and interests. And maximize your goals.

My programs are challenging and never lacking in motivation.

My staff of certified personal trainers are there to monitor, support and encourage you on an appointment only one-to-one basis. And provide the feedback you need to keep on track.

For a free no obligation consultation just give me a call.

Start getting more out of life. Get fit. You'll look good and feel great.
