Make the connection at The Women's Show

"What Women Really Want promises to be an unforgettable weekend," says Debra Weller, who heads the new division of the York Region Newspaper Group, to produce special events, trade shows and niche publications, and is also Director of Advertising for the Markham Economist & Sun.

DEBRA WELLER

We may be individuals with differing needs, but there are some things all women are constantly looking to improve - our relationships, health, financial security, businesses, beauty, fashion, well-being, life balance, and even our golf game! Now you have the opportunity to take strides in polishing your inner and outer selves by taking part in this dynamic show. We'll connect you with experts in a number of professional and personal development fields, so you can discover new strategies to help improve your life.

Among the amazing speakers we've lined up for you is Patricia Lovett-Reid, Vice President and Managing Director of TD Asset Management, who also wears the hats of author and television personality. Her Wise and Wealthy Women talk Saturday and Sunday May 4 and 5 is something independent-minded women will definitely want to attend.

How about health? Lorna R. Vanderhaeghe is a renowned health journalist and author who will present a talk on Healthy Immunity - Scientifically proven natural treatments for Canadians from A-Z. And let's not forget sex! We have popular talk show host, author, and sex therapist, Dr. Date, speaking on Relationship Rescue and Drive Your Man Wild on Saturday, May 4.

Learn how the stars can help guide you along your life path from Astrologer Leslie Trill, and how to put an end to fat-producing cravings from Brad King, author of the best-selling book Fat Wars: 45 Days to Transform Your Body.

Be sure to browse through the many booths in the exhibit hall to gather information on a myriad of fascinating services and products, including med. marijuana, laser rejuvenation and much more.

A show Day Pass to "What Women Really Want" is $10 and only available at the door.
