

Disabled care subject of meeting

The complicated issue of ensuring disabled patients are looked after if their main caregiver dies is the subject of lawyer Michael Morris's talk Tuesday night in Markham.

Mr. Morris, who specializes in estate planning, is speaking at the regular Markham chapter meeting of the Schizophrenia Association of Ontario.

It takes place 7:30 p.m. at 5 District police station, on the corner of McCowan and Carlton roads.

Markham chapter president Myra Pett emphasized all are welcome at the free meeting.

Said Ms Pett: "Most people don't know about the issues (involved with disabled patient care), so this meeting is good for anybody with a disabled relative."
