The Regional Municipality of York

LONG TERM WATER PROJECT MASTER PLAN UPDATE NOTICE OF STUDY COMMENCEMENT

THE STUDY

The Regional Municipality of York has commenced an update of its Long Term Water Project Master Plan last reviewed in 1997. The Master Plan is a long-range plan that integrates infrastructure requirements for existing and future land use with environmental assessment planning principles. Master Plans for infrastructure projects are typically updated every five years to ensure the infrastructure program (eg, pumping stations, treatment facilities, water mains, etc.) remains consistent with the changing needs of the community served. It is the most appropriate tool to examine the Region's water infrastructure system in order to outline a framework for planning for subsequent projects. Once complete, the update will result in a revised Long Term Water Project Master Plan document that will identify and recommend water infrastructure projects required to satisfy growth in the Region to the year 2036.

WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU

Public consultation is a key component of this study. The proposed consultation plan provides for public information centres at two points in the study: Fall 2002 to review the problem and alternative solutions; and early in 2003 to review the preferred solution. Additionally, there will be opportunity provided to review and comment on the final Master Plan report expected in early spring 2003.

CORRECTION

In a story on the funeral of Jesse Gray in the June 13 edition of the Stouffville Tribune, part of a paragraph was cut off. The story should have read:

During the funeral service, Jesse's brother Bobby, cousin Louie (Bubba) Bungaro and friend Brent Too reminded the very emotional gathering that Jesse was full of life, full of fun and sometimes a little full of himself. And, the trio pointed out that "Jesse had a heart of gold," loved to fish, looked out for the kids and expected to live forever.

The Tribune regrets the error.
