Wax when you rinse

Wouldn't it be nice if you could somehow preserve the wet look of your freshly rinsed car? It's easier than you think with Eagle One's Wax As-U-Dry spray. The idea is simple: speed up the waxing process simply by applying Wax As-U-Dry right after you rinse (assuming you've just finished washing), when the car is still wet. Then, all you have to do is dry as you normally would with a towel or a chamois. That's it, you're done. When you think about it, there's really no additional work aside from spraying the wax, which is perfect if you'd rather spend more time driving your ride than polishing it. Wax As-U-Dry is a special blend of water-reactive polymers and waxes that Eagle One says is safe for all painted surfaces, windows, bumpers and mouldings. That means you don't have to worry about getting overspray on stuff you're not supposed to. And, for around $8 a bottle (suggested retail price), it's a relative bargain.
