person," exclaimed Bev.

Bev pointed out that "everyone there is very friendly and it's a comfortable place." She said she was "totally" at ease.

Bev said she's had a "lot of compliments on the colour and the cut."

But, Bev saved most of her praise for Hairstylist Angie.

"Angie looks at you and gets a feel for you and goes for it. I often don't really know (what I want). She's like an artist on what will look good and she's not afraid to try it. She had a lot of self-confidence. I like that about her."

Angie noted in a later interview that she

When it was over, "I look great. I really like it and I can (maintain) it myself," said Bev. "I can make it look great!"

"Angie coloured it and cut it with really nice highlights and she cut it in a fun kind of way. What a blast ... Angie is an open, sincere is an educator with K.M.S. and does stage work, so "it's easy for me to flip them over to the other side taking them out of the box and giving them something completely different. After 24 years in the business, it's easy for me to look at someone and know where I want to go and have the ability to take them there. I talk with them on how much time they want to put into it," she explained.

"I'm absolutely thrilled. Angie gave me exactly what I wanted even though I couldn't describe it to her so I thought that was pretty impressive. She's an artist!" exclaimed Bev.

"My husband said I looked gorgeous!" she concluded.
