You'll want to eat up these parts

Add some vibrant and unique colour to your engine bay with Candy Chromed accessories from Wilson Motorsports out of Gardnerville, Nev. The company offers powder-coated (a very tough electrostatically applied finish) goodies in metallic red, blue, purple, green, or gold. Choose from muscle-car-styled air-cleaner lids (the 10-inch version sells for about $15; a 14-inch cover is just $18) or rocker covers to fit small-block Chevys and Fords. The Chevy covers come in standard and tall sizes and sell for $45 a pair; the Ford version comes in one height and sells for just under $50. These guys even offer some ball-milled aluminum picture frames, which will come in handy for displaying photos of your newly dressed-up engine. Frames are available in the same colours as the engine accessories, plus two more finishes, either brushed or polished aluminum, and start at less than $35. You can check out Wilson's products, visit their customer photo gallery and order online at www.wmsofnv.com. You can also call 1-775-720-3279 or email sales@wmsofnv.com for more information.

Present time looks at future travel

How much would you pay to turn your car into the time-traveling DeLorean from the Back-to-the-Future movie series? A coupla million, maybe? Just think, you'd never, ever be late for anything ever again! Miss a birthday? No problem! Sleep in for work? No problem! Want to roll back in time and rule the Roman Empire? Well, you're on your own with that one. As good as time travel sounds, we're not quite there yet. But, you can sure look the part with custom-made replicas of some of the cool gadgets found in Doc and Marty McFly's tricked-out DeLorean (perhaps the ultimate hot rod). You can choose from a dash-mounted Time Circuit Display (US $320) that plugs into your power outlet/lighter socket and provides a programmable backlit display of travel dates. Or, choose the Flux Jr. (US $495) — our favourite — a tribute to the Flux Capacitor, the ultimate time-travel accessory. These items are available in very limited quantities (the owners of the original movie car manufacture them by request). Hey, and if you're a two-car family, you'll also have to get the bumper sticker that reads 'My other car is a time machine'. Get the details at <http://home.att.net/~time-car/index.htm>.
