Walk for the Moraine raises big bucks

Walkers raised $20,000 last month to ensure key lands on the Oak Ridges Moraine will remain green.

The annual Walk for the Moraine at Seneca College's King campus on Sept. 29 will help pay legal costs for the Oak Ridges Moraine Land Trust, which protects properties left by willing donors or by owners who agree to legal easements preventing development.

"With a total of 3,000 acres of moraine lands expected to be secured by the end of the year, we need a constant source of funds to cover costs such as environmental assessments, appraisals and legal fees," land trust president Tom Atkins said in a release.

More on the Aurora-based charity is available by phoning 1-905-841-3678 or e-mailing landtrust@bell-net.ca.
