On Wednesday, Oct. 30 the Friends of the Markham Stouffville Hospital Fashions for Life Committee will present their 4th Annual Fashion Show and Dinner at the Le Parc Banquet and Convention Centre. The Market Place opens at 6:00 p.m. followed by the Dinner and Fashion Show at 7:00 p.m. Tickets are $70 each and can be purchased at the Markham Stouffville Hospital Foundation office located in the Hospital, 381 Church Street. During the cocktail hour commencing at 6:00 p.m. and also following the fashion show, the Market Place will open where guests are invited to purchase unique items such as fresh/dried floral arrangements, delicious take home desserts, one of a kind jewellery and unique gifts from selected vendors. Guests can also enjoy tasty cheeses courtesy of the Dairy Farmers of Canada.

A Couple of Squares is providing their award winning gingerbread. Each of the guests will receive one as a table favour. The gingerbread has been designed as a special compliment to the Canadian theme for the evening.

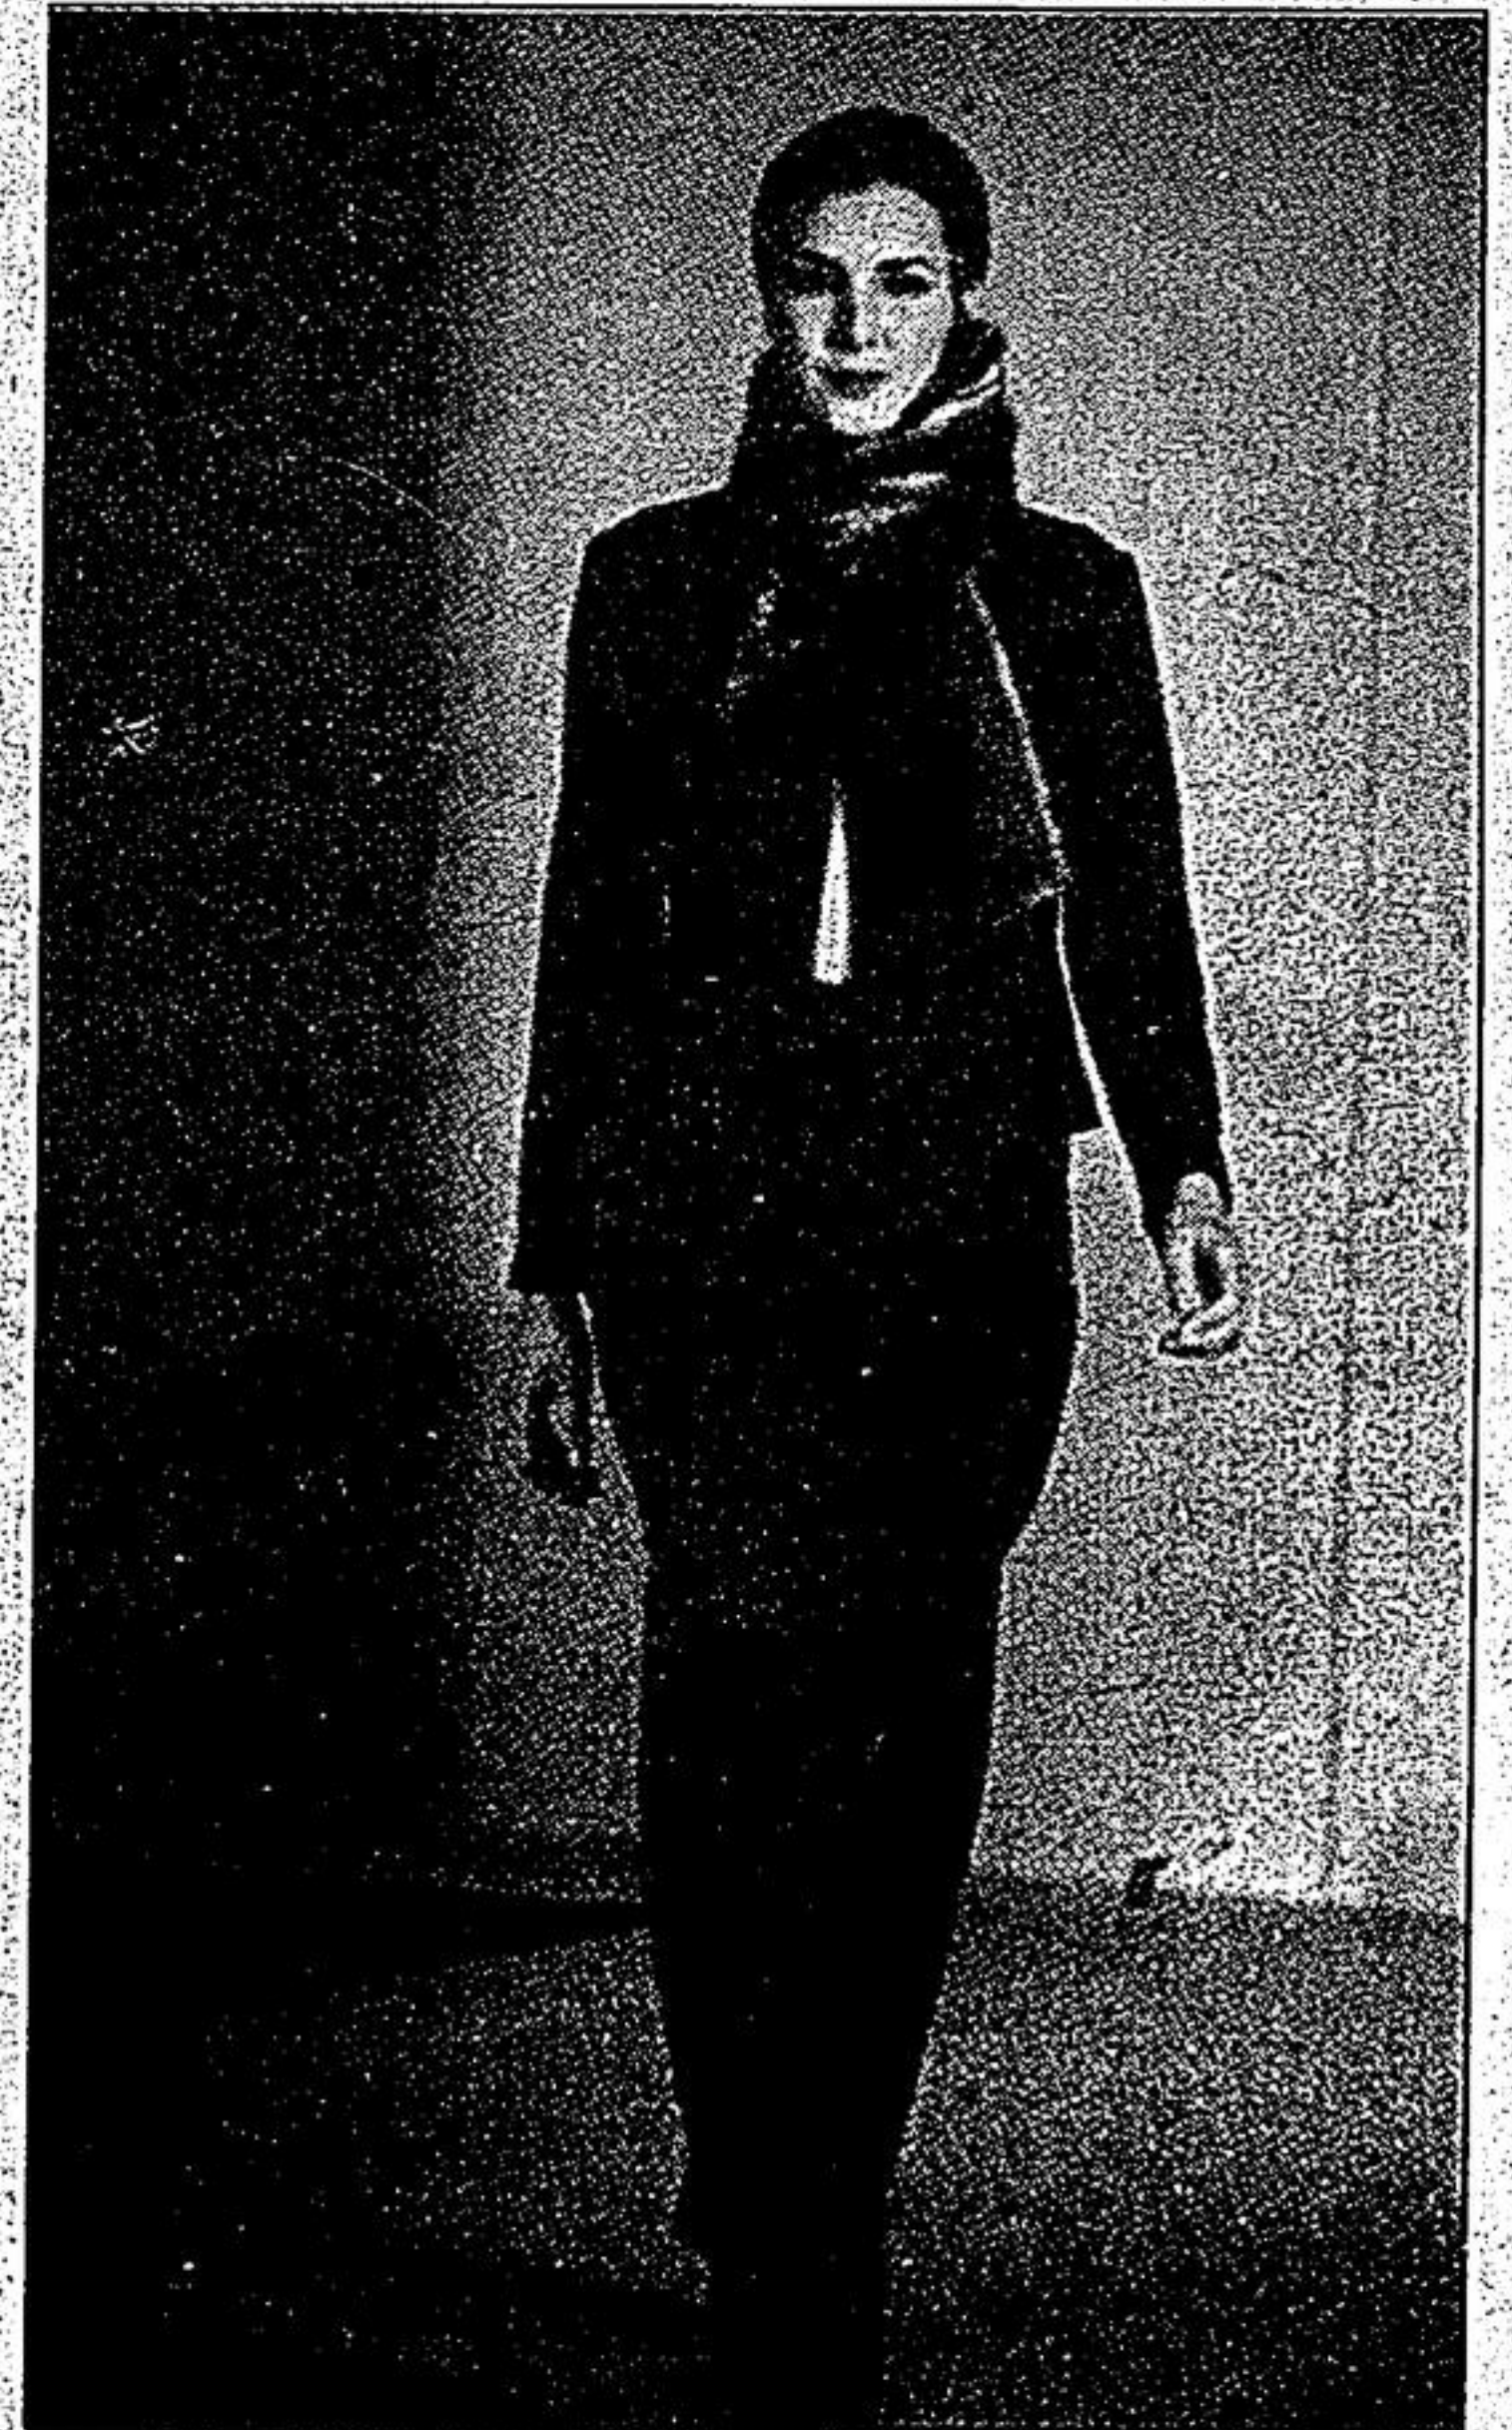

This year's event promises to be the best ever. Oh Canada — What Style will be a celebration of great Canadian Designer Fashion combined with the upscale sporty gear from Roots that has become a tradition throughout the world. The host for the evening will be Ken Shaw CFTO News National Editor and Prime Time Anchor Weekdays. You will spot many familiar faces on the runway. This is the time when some of the hospital's busy Doctors and Nurses join both the celebrities and professional models on the runway. Children, many of whom were born at the Hospital are all set to steal the show and the upbeat group of teens always surprise.

There will be much excitement as Emilie Livingston Pan American Games Champion and 2000 Canadian Olympian-Rhythmic Gymnast performs. They are honoured to have Philip Douglas Kerr open the show singing the National Anthem. Philip appeared in the original production of Les Miserables, Canada's touring company and also in London's West End. He is also appearing in Disney's upcoming movie the Music Man with Matthew Broderick due to open in May 2003.

The wonderful staff from the Svengali Salon and Spa will once again provide the models with their creative hair and make-up styling. Always fashion forward with the newest colours and techniques at their finger tips everyone is guaranteed to look and feel wonderful when they hit the runway.
