Underwater scenes 'breathtaking'

You mustn't forget to drop by Camerhogue Park on the Grand Anse Beach for 'First Impressions' whale and dolphin tour. And if diving is more your style, the underwater scenery in Grenada is every bit as breathtaking as it is above the waves. From lazy drift dives over coral gardens to an eerie and challenging exploration of the wrecks of the Bianca C, these waters are captivating more and more visitors each year. The farthest site is around Kick 'em Jenny and Isle de Rhonde, where the underwater visibility is unparalleled and the sea life magnificent. Divers can easily do two dives a day for a week without exhausting Grenada's dive sites.

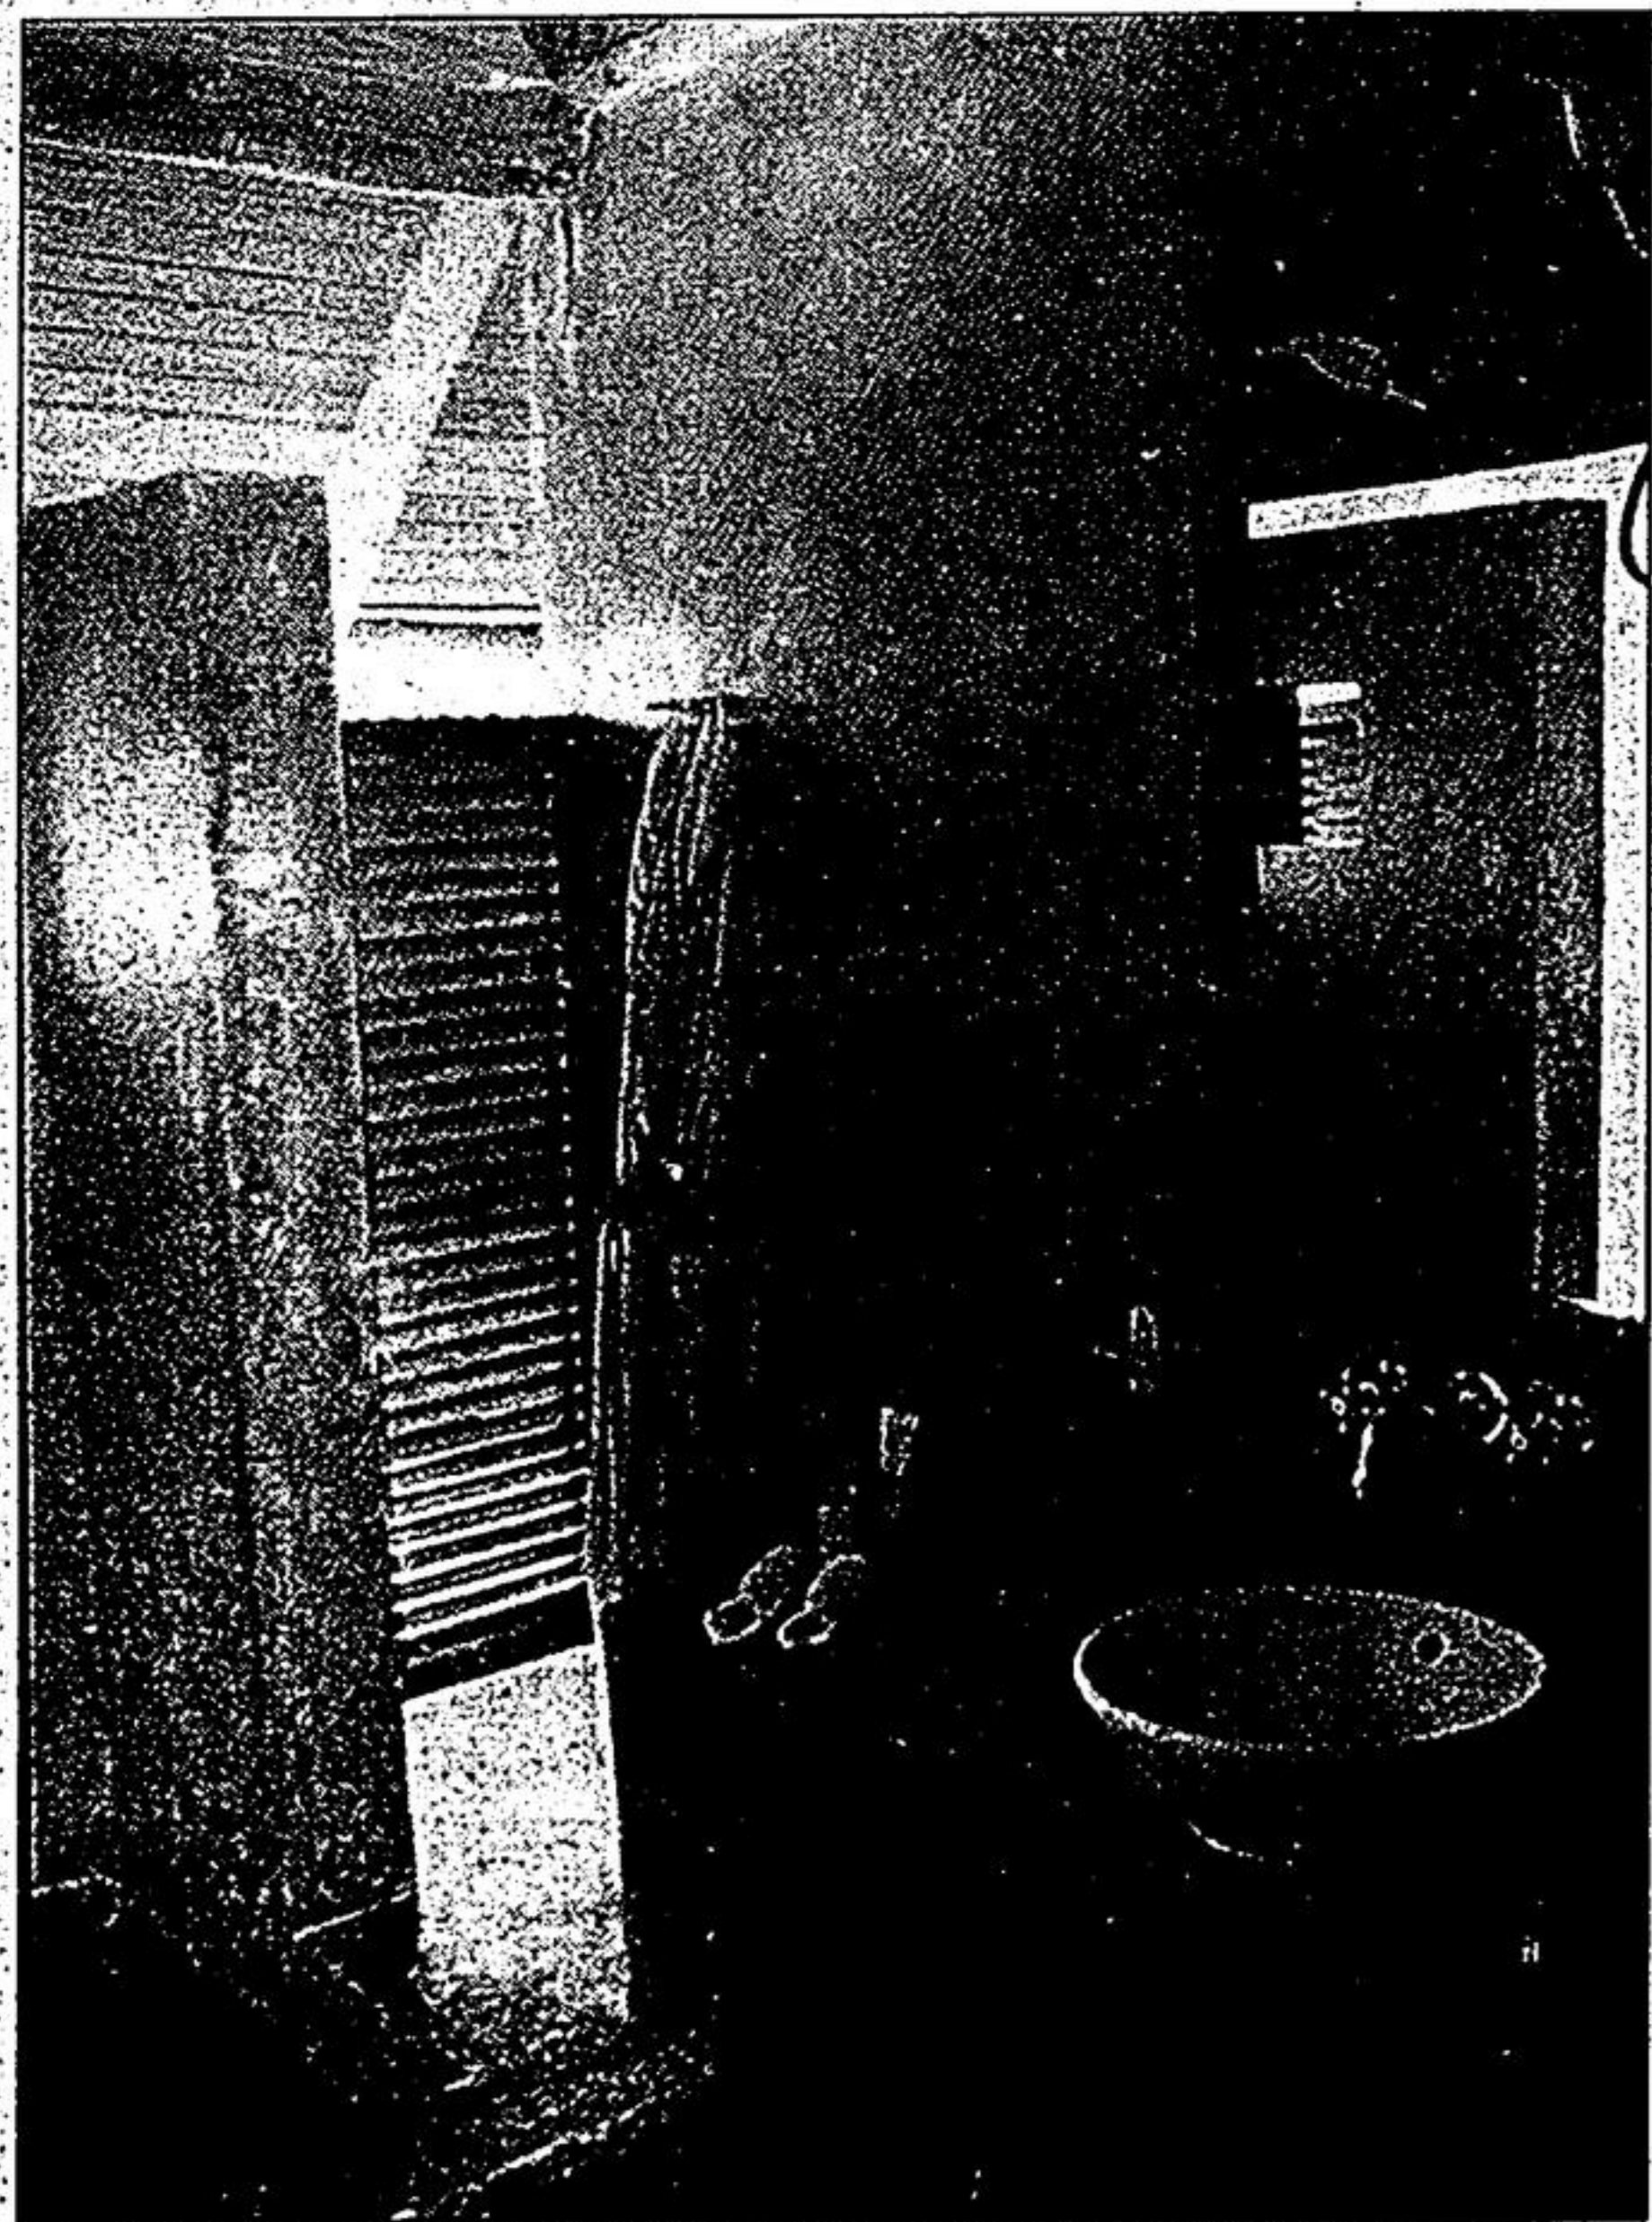

Perhaps one of the finest resorts in Grenada is Laluna Hotel — www.laluna.com — where manager Charles Hossle will introduce you to this exclusive, Italian-owned romantic hideaway in Morne Rouge. Featuring 16 one and two-bedroom cottages, they combine Indonesian elements with open-styled Italian architecture. Bedrooms with king-sized beds open onto large verandahs, creates unique indoor/outdoor living rooms. If enjoying the exclusive hand-made soaps and lotions from a monastery in the Italian Alps haven't kept you from venturing out, partake in a special dinner in the intimate environment of the thatched roof dining room. Situated directly on the beach, the restaurant offers a great experience, with tempting dishes prepared by the hotel's European chef, popular Italian wines and romantic views of the bay.

Back home in Holland Landing recalling my Grenada adventures, I chuckle softly to myself as I sit in front of my laptop. For out of the corner of my eye, shimmering in the backdrop of table light is the 50-calibre shell casing I stepped on years ago. From its original home on the Grand Anse Beach, the Grenada souvenir is now home on my office bookcase. I guess I have come full circle, where Grenada is concerned. I'm just content to share with our readers pleasant memories of this beautiful Caribbean Island — instead of my first, more painful recollection.
