Great Lengths Hair Gallery made me a 'Movie Star'

By ROD URQUHART
Advertising Writer

Gail Jennings has never had a makeover before winning the New You Makeover Contest in the Economist & Sun/Tribune, but was simply delighted with Great Lengths Hair Gallery of Markham.

"My father-in-law said after I looked like a movie star!" exclaimed the exuberant Gail, of Markham.

"I went from very long hair to shorter hair and a colour change, so it was pretty drastic, but it had been 15 years since I had had a hair cut to a different style and shorter," she added.

However, following her New You Makeover, she exclaimed, "I like it and everybody who sees me likes it. It makes me look much younger," said the mother of two teenage boys and an 11-year-old daughter.

And her family all loved her new look. "My husband liked it and so did my teenaged son and you know how hard it is to please a teenager. My daughter watches makeovers on (television station) TLC and she was anticipating a drastic change and she liked it too."
