

'I felt like a new woman'

(From page 12)

Great Lengths Hair Gallery Salon Director Patrick Hupe, who performed the hairstyling, colouring and highlights, said his first impression of Gail was her hair was long, curly and dark brown.

Gail had a consultation with the Great Lengths staff and "she didn't want to lose too much length, but she was open to suggestion. We wanted her to be able to wear it curly or straight," explained Patrick.

Gail Before

"I cut it shorter with more movement and softness to bring the attention back up to her eyes," he added.

Patrick noted that when it came to the colouring, he used warm browns, with copper highlights, "dealing with the theme of softness I chose the colours to suit her skin tones and bring up the warmth in her skin."

Next Gail saw Makeup Artist Kim Primeau owner of Kiss'n Make-up, who is affiliated with Great Lengths Hair Gallery.

"The makeup Kim chose complimented Gail's hair colour and skin tones," explained Patrick.

Gail After

Gail was full of praise for Great Lengths Hair Gallery. "They are really nice people and it's a lovely spot to go to."

She noted they are "very professional, very helpful, very informative and very pleasant." Gail pointed out that both Patrick and Kim gave her tips on caring for her hair and makeup. "Patrick gave me tips on how to care for my hair," she noted.

"I felt very pampered and felt like a new woman!" she exclaimed "I felt very elegant after. It was a very nice experience," she concluded.
