

Holiday Gift Guide 2002

Make the right choice: gift certificates

Considering the multitude of available products to choose from at Christmas time, it's no wonder that some of us get a bit overwhelmed. If you can't seem to think clearly above all the hubbub and are having a hard time making a gift decision, you can always rely on one simple option: gift certificates.

Most stores, clubs, theatres, service professionals and specialized boutiques offer gift certificates, making them a perfect choice at Christmas. Gift certificates have many advantages; for example, the recipient can decide exactly how he or she wants to use the certificate. And it's great for the giver because you can purchase a gift certificate according to your available budget. What's more, a gift certificate offers extra pleasure because the recipient has the joy of receiving your gift twice — when he or she first receives the gift certificate and again when it is exchanged for a good or service. Golf clubs to the theatre, to speciality stores and shops, even restaurants, all offer gift certificates!

When you have someone difficult to buy for, but you know a store or shop or service they frequent, gift certificates are just smart shopping. Maybe your wife would like a day at the Spa, but you don't know what she would specifically like, gift certificates are a way of giving her what she wants. Or maybe dad would like a day on the golf course next spring. Consider gift certificates at this time of year. Or maybe dad needs a new set of clubs? Maybe you don't know your dad or mom's taste in movies. You can always purchase them some gift certicates for the rental of a DVD or VHS tape. There's tons of ideas with gift certificates.

You can't go wrong with a gift certificate, so make the right choice this Christmas.
