Blockbuster, Quizno's neighbours in new Stouffville plaza

A Quizno's Subs shop and a Blockbuster video store are slated to open in west-end Stouffville in June.

Both will be in a plaza under construction at the southeast corner of Ringwood Drive and Main Street, next to Burger King.

Blockbuster Canada claims to be the largest movie and game rental retailer in the country. There are 390 Blockbuster stores employing more than 5,000 people.

"Stouffville is a nice town. Blockbuster is pleased to set up business," said Earl Tucker of Real Estate Marketing of Don Mills, Blockbuster Canada's realtor.

Blockbuster is especially pleased with its newest location.

"I walked every retail outlet in Stouffville before settling on the Ringwood spot," said Mr. Tucker.

Susi and Laurie Adrian own the franchise for the 1,200-square-foot Stouffville Quizno's.

There are more than 2,000 Quizno's restaurants in 13 countries.

"Whether dining in or eating on the go, Quizno's is the upscale sandwich concept designed for busy customers who are looking for a tasty, fresher alternative to many of today's traditional fast food restaurants," said franchise co-owner Susi Adrian.

Quizno's stands above the "ordinary sub sandwich restaurant," because the subs are toasted on special breads, said the co-owner.

Hockey guru Don Cherry is Quizno's radio spokesperson.

The menu at Stouffville's Quizno's will include meats and cheeses as well as soups and salads.

The Denver-based company's 21 years of success can be attributed to good food," said Mrs. Adrian.

The Stouffville shop will be open seven days a week from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and have a staff of 12.
