'Many parasites show no socio-economic boundaries

(From page 12) the consultant. "Parasites are the enemy within. It's a subject people don't want to talk about," said Ms Bryniawsky. "Here in Canada, we assume it is a disease of underdeveloped countries. But, there are many parasites that show no socio-economic boundaries and are found in all climates and in all countries. With air travel today, parasites live everywhere, including here," said Ms Bryniawsky. After Ms Bryniawsky finds out how the organ is functioning, she then uses her knowledge and training to begin the steps of finding which homeopathic remedies, nutritional supplements, flower essence, herbals and diet are to be considered in order to balance a person.

Ms Bryniawsky's clients come to the clinic with the following concerns: migraine headaches, digestive problems, weight concerns, back problems, lack of energy, joint pain and stiffness, food sensitivities, child hyperactivity, respiratory disorders, food sensitivities, vitamin deficiencies and poor concentration.
