

UNIONVILLE VILLAGE FESTIVAL

Events scheduled for Friday, June 6

8:00 p.m. - Dance

If you thought last year was fun — make sure you don't miss out this year. The Unionville Village Festival Dance is excited to announce the return of CHUM FM's morning show personalities Roger Ashby and Tom Jokic!!

Roger and Tom gave us the best show ever in 2002, that's why we are delighted that they are eager to return to Unionville in 2003. We had to kick you off the dance floor last year at closing time, that's a good thing!!! We hope we have to do the same again this year.

Tickets are $25, they include dinner prepared by The Unionville Arms and went on sale May 1st at The Unionville Arms and Toogood Cafe, both on Main Street Unionville. — get yours early to avoid disappointment.

Welcome to the Unionville Village Festival

The Unionville Village Festival commemorates Unionville's unique character which is found not only in the historic buildings of our beautiful town, but in those who live here as well. Every year for the past 34 years, these residents have joined together in celebration, as a community experience unparalleled anywhere else.

It is this Festival Spirit that bring friends, relatives and newcomers to our town, to share the enthusiasm we all feel, the pride of taking ownership in our community. We hope you enjoy sharing the Festival experience with us... welcome to Unionville.

The philosophy and aim of the school is to develop self-motivated, responsible and self-disciplined students who will realize their full potential. The school provides a supportive and encouraging environment in which the students strive to pursue excellence in education through high expectations of academic achievement. An individual approach to education is the school's primary goal. We believe in recognizing the value of non-academic and extracurricular activities. Our program therefore provides the students with a wide range of opportunities to develop their talents and interests. We will provide a safe, fun and enjoyable learning environment for all students.
