Fun-filled fair promised

BY SHEZA NAQI
Special

David Morrison is promising a fun-filled Markham Fair, but fears a school board decision could hurt this year's attendance.

York's public board moved its first professional activity day of the school calendar (which is a student holiday) from its traditional first Friday in October, which is usually the first full day of the fair, to Sept. 19.

"It was a standard tradition to have that day off on our Friday," he noted. "We tried to talk with the board but there wasn't anything that could be done."

This year's fair, the 159th, is Oct. 2 through 5 at the fairgrounds, at the intersection of McCowan Road and Elgin Mills Road.

Seventy-five thousand people attended last year's event, including school children on field trips. Many yellow buses are expected to drop off students on the Thursday and Friday. Mr. Morrison hopes having two days of school outings makes up for the lack of a holiday.

He anticipates schools from York Region and the Greater Toronto Area to attend. Educational activities planned for them include sheep shearing, cow milking demonstrations and the Dr. Bandoli Super Quiz Show.

Most of these activities harken back to the fair's rural roots, a focus that has not changed despite the area's high-tech focus.

The official Thursday opening includes a demolition derby and a Holstein cattle show. Featured Friday events are a tractor and truck pull, horse show and a teen video dance.

Horse racing, old-time fiddler's competition, motocross demonstrations by Al Strickert and giant fireworks are on tap for Saturday. Sunday's schedule includes a children's pedal tractor pull and a spelling bee.

Among the new attractions are a championship bull-riding show on Sunday with riders from Ontario, Quebec and New York.

In addition, all the favourites are back, including:

- the midway;
- pig races;
- agricultural displays;
- all sorts of food;
- endless live entertainment;
- gymnastics demonstrations and
- a baby contest.

The four-day event is reputedly the largest of its kind in Canada and is possible due to the work of 700 volunteers between the ages of 12 and 90. Mr. Morrison described the fair as a chance to "see Canadiana at its epitome."
