

Crash victim just moved to York

A 17-year-old Newmarket girl, killed Wednesday while driving along Aurora Road in Whitchurch-Stouffville, had moved to Newmarket from Durham Region a short time ago.

Technical collision officers are investigating what might have caused Ashley Ann Hodgins to veer into oncoming traffic between McCowan Road and Hwy. 48.

The Durham College student's Toyota Corolla collided head-on with a dump truck loaded with gravel.

The driver of the dump truck, a 67-year-old Toronto man, tried to avoid the collision by swerving toward the right shoulder.

Cops seek sex assault suspect

Police are appealing to the public to help identify a man wanted in connection with a sexual assault at a Markham bus stop earlier this month.

The victim, a 44-year-old woman, was standing at a GO bus stop at the corner of Bullock Drive and Hwy. 7 when she was approached by an unknown man.

The woman was grabbed and sexually assaulted by the man, who then fled scene. He was last seen running north on Bullock.

The victim sustained minor injuries as a result of the assault.

York Regional Police are looking for a man aged 25 to 35 with an olive complexion, six-foot tall, a slim build, weighing approximately 185 pounds.

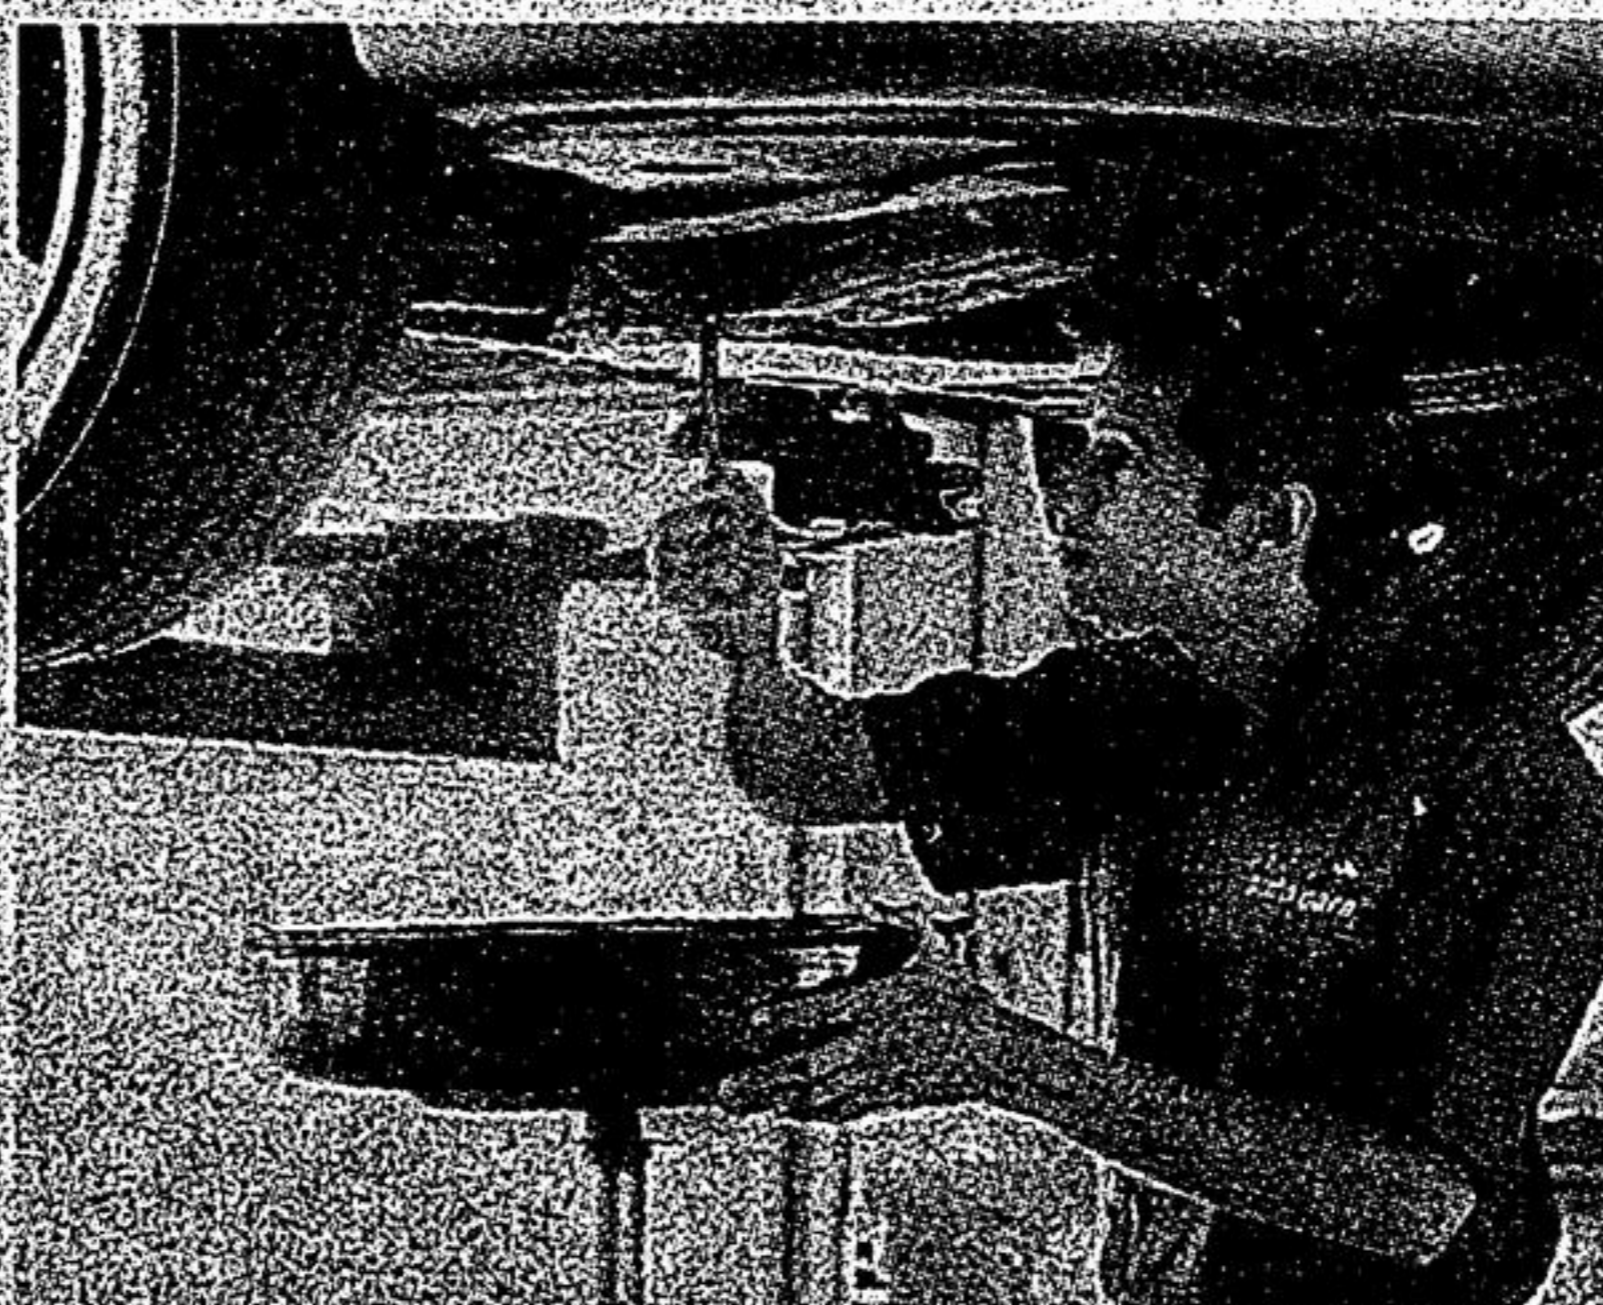

He is described as being well dressed, wearing a 3/4-length black leather coat, a dark sweater, casual pants and dress shoes.

Anyone with information on the incident is asked to call the sexual assault bureau at 905-881-1221 ext. 7071 or Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS.
