

Music Mania recruiting for 44th show

Stouffville's longest-running musical variety show is gearing up for its April production of From the Cutting Room Floor.

Music Mania is looking for new talent to join the cast to sing, dance, perform in skits or work behind the scenes.

Sign-up is Wednesday, Jan. 7 from 7:30 p.m. at Summitview Public School, 6551 Main St. in Stouffville.

Rehearsals begin on sign-up night and there are no auditions.

The chorus and skit teams

Our Town

with Hannelore Volpe

are hoping to increase their numbers this year and are encouraging more men to join.

"And we really need a drummer," the show's producer, Margaret Cunningham, said.

The 2004 show marks 44 years of Music Mania in Stouffville.

It is sponsored by Stouffville

United Church's Couples+ Club. Every year, proceeds from the show support a variety of worthy causes.

MOVIE THEME FOR 2004

The family show explores the world of movies this year.

Traditionally, Music Mania includes a black light production, gives a unique view of local politics and happenings around town and usually manages to poke fun at neighbouring Uxbridge at least once.

Local politicians are often gently roasted. Colourful costumes, music for all ages and watching 40-something men attempting to breakdance are all included.

This year's musical director is Melissa Ferguson. Heidi Wallis heads the skit team and Gayle Dunn directs.

Music Mania is on stage April 22 to 24 at Stouffville District Secondary School.
