EnerGuide Awards open consumer's eyes to energy savings opportunities

12 percent of Canada's greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. The EnerGuide Awards can help Canadians compare the new vehicles on their shopping lists with these winners to see the energy-saving opportunities. A mere 10-percent increase in fuel efficiency can put hundreds of dollars into consumers' pockets and reduce GHG emissions and their impact on climate change.

More information on fuel consumption ratings for new and used vehicles is available in the 2004 Fuel Consumption Guide, and on NRCAN's Web site at oee.nrcan.gc.ca/vehicles.

The EnerGuide Awards initiative enhances our quality of life through the sustainable development of natural resources — supporting the Government of Canada's agenda of strong social foundations, a strong economy for the 21st century and ensuring Canada's role of pride and influence in the world. The natural resources sectors and allied industries are a vital part of Canada's economy and society.
