

Festival of Lights kicks off Christmas season

The Festival of Lights begins in Clock Tower Square on Stouffville's Main Street at 7 p.m. tomorrow. There will be dancers, soloists, surprise entertainment and a visit from Santa. Members of the Lighthouse Baptist Church will perform songs of the season.

There will be free hot chocolate as well as free gifts for the first 50 children. The Festival of Lights is presented by the Stouffville

Business Improvement Area. Parade Saturday
The annual Kinsmen

Santa Claus Parade makes its way down Stouffville's Main Street Saturday at 2 p.m.

It starts on 10th Line and continues to Palmwood Gate (near No Frills).

The road will be closed from 1:30 to 3 p.m. The parade features floats and entries from local community and service groups, schools and local businesses, as well as bands.

Nifter Gifter Holiday Gift Fest

Children will have a chance to draw a picture on what home means to them at Saturday's Nifter Gifter Holiday gift fest while helping Habitat for Humanity.

One dollar will be donated to Habitat for Humanity for each drawing entered.

The show, featuring local craftspeople and other businesses, is from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Latham Hall, 8 Park Dr. S. in Stouffville Memorial Park.

There will be a raffle supporting Pathways of York Region, which operates youth shelters and runs programs for young people and moms and children.

Prizes for the drawing contest for Habitat for Humanity are on the show's website at www.themultiverse.ca/niftergifter.

All elementary school-age children are encouraged to enter the drawing contest.
