

Shaved heads in style at Stouffville Secondary

A recent head shave drive has started what Stouffville District Secondary School staff and students hope will become an annual tradition.

Eight staff members and seven students shaved their heads Dec. 15 for the Canadian Cancer Society.

Tina Coleshill from Casa Massimo Salon did the shaving, which took place during lunch hour. The event, organized by students Heather Drudge, Melissa Mellor-Hill, Katie Carroll, Kate Devine and teacher Scott Artindale, raised more than $3,000 for the society.

"Our goal was to raise $1,000," Heather said. "It was a lot of work to organize, but very much worth it."

"We are hoping to make it an annual event during April, which is designated as cancer month by the society," Heather said.

Participants received donations from businesses, school staff and students.
