

More doors set to open on Stouffville history tour

When the doors to buildings and facilities in Whitchurch-Stouffville are thrown open this summer, hundreds of people will be able to experience the municipality's past close up.

This is the second year for the event in Whitchurch-Stouffville, which runs from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on June 4.

Several new sites have been added, including the Stouffville Cemetery, Stouffville Monument Works and Stouffville Lawn-Bowling Club. The Altona grave site of Stouffville's founder Abraham Stouffer is also on the self-directed tour.

To be included in the tour, sites must have historic, architectural or cultural significance. They can include everything from lighthouses to homes.

Toronto was the first North American city to host a Doors Open event in 2000; Whitchurch-Stouffville came on board in 2004.

This year, more than 130 communities are expected to take part across Ontario, drawing more than a half million visitors.

Whitchurch-Stouffville committee volunteers will be at each site to offer information on the building or facility's past.

Volunteers are needed, said Wayne Kelly, chairperson of the Whitchurch-Stouffville Heritage Advisory Committee, which is involved with the event.

ANNOUNCEMENT

It is with great sadness that we announce the permanent closure of the late Dr. Bruce D. Brooks' Medical Practice. The office will remain open until April 30, 2005, after which charts will be placed in storage as per the College of Physicians guidelines. Patients wishing copies of their charts will need to provide written authorization. Request prior to April 20, 2005 may be made by fax at 905-472-6481 or phone 905-472-9337. Following this date requests are to be sent to P.O. Box 186, Stouffville, ON L4A 7Z5. A processing fee in accordance with the OMA guidelines will apply.

On behalf of Carrie and the Brooks family we thank you for all your kind words of support through our tragic loss. Bruce was proud to be involved in your care.
