VOSS WATER

We would like to introduce VOSS Bottled Water from Norway. Voss, which means waterfall in Norwegian, is considered a "high-end" specialty water. This water is very hard to come by and not easily found. It's no wonder why The Garden Basket is likely to be the only store you'll find this pristine water available. The distributors of this water say it's "the purest water ever tested by the Food & Drug Administration," and to underline that claim, it comes in a striking glass bottle. Bottled under the strict supervision of the Norwegian Institute of Water Research, it comes from a glacially fed virgin aquifer in central Norway shielded for centuries under ice and rock thus, has never been exposed to air and is so low in sodium content that the FDA allowed them to label it sodium-free! Purity also goes to the taste, and the taste is very clean. It is exciting, a conversation piece, sort of a social water.
