

Plenty more than polo for family entertainment

Polo for Heart may be about world-class international polo and raising money for heart and stroke research, but there's a lot more action-packed family fun on the sidelines, too.

Here's a glimpse of what's on the entertainment agenda between the daily polo matches:

Do the kids in your family enjoy games, clowns and other cuddly characters? Kids of all ages (grandparents included) won't want to miss the many fun activities waiting for them in the Children's Village.

If you think your pooch is talented, wait until you meet The DogSmart Performing Dog Team. This fun-loving pack of canines will showcase their flyball, agility and obedience skills in their own flamboyant style, choreographed to music. You'll also meet their energetic owners who will dish out educational tips for breed selection, training and feeding. It's an amusing show suitable for all ages and stages, so don't miss a minute of the action.

In other pooch news, come out to meet some of York Region's top canine cops. The York Regional Police canine unit and their handlers will make their mark on the park, giving visitors a chance to learn how man's best friend transforms into a crime fighter.

Once again, six fearless skydivers will officially open the Polo for Heart annual fundraiser, soaring through the air in brightly coloured parachutes while performing incredible acrobatic feats. They're called, appropriately, the Rainbow Skydivers and they'll wow you at every turn.

And while your eyes are airborne, check out the Toronto Kitefliers and their home-made creations. They will be on hand to offer kitemaking tips, show off stunts, and sign up members.

If all of this high flying activity inspires you to get airborne yourself, you can enjoy a lift on the Remax hot air balloon. Although tethered, you'll get a great view of all of the event action going on below.

Tired of your old face? Put on a new one with the ultimate in face painting. With Fantasy Airbrush Painting, artist will adorn kids young and old (that means adults, too) with colourful images of their choosing. Become a precocious princess or a fanciful feline, or paint on a floral ankle bracelet or necklace. It's all done using silent air compressors and odourless paint that washes off easily with soap and water.

Once dad has his new tattoo, he may have a hankering to climb on a Harley. Here's his chance. Check out The York Region chapter of the Harley Owners Group—or HOG for short. This group of experienced easy riders, sponsored by Davies Harley Davidson in Richmond Hill, came together in 1999 and now number 150. They're also a charitable bunch, raising more than $50,000 for a variety of worthy causes including heart and stroke research.

If you feel you're in need of some retail therapy, you'll definitely want to take a browse through the boutique shopping tent, with one-of-a-kind merchandise from gifted craftspeople and artisans.

For a spectacular finish to a spectacular fundraiser, White Wings Worldwide will release a flock of ceremonial doves who will take to the air. Their fanciful flight will symbolize everything Polo for Heart stands for: love, peace, goodwill and good luck.
