Use interlocking concrete pavers to create an exciting, durable driveway that also beautifies your landscaping.

(NC)-The journey to a great looking home can begin with a single step-along a new walk or stairway. Here are some stylish ideas for sprucing up the paths around your place.

If your walkway seems more like an obstacle course or labyrinth it might be time to replace it. First choose a style that suits both your house and your own sensitivities. Owners of older homes may opt for a more traditional and muted design while those in newer developments may desire a more contemporary look. Your walkway should also reflect your personality and creativity so it's important to select building materials well suited to that purpose.

One of the most versatile and customizable options are interlocking concrete pavers. Made with high strength, durable concrete, each unit locks together to form a surface that's not only visually attractive but also withstands the elements. Homeowners may be glad to know pavers resist deterioration from deicing salts and harsh climatic changes better than other pavement.

For many homeowners, however, it's the vast array of colours, shapes, sizes and textures that make concrete pavers a popular option for any project that demands character and personality. You can get rustic stone-like pavers, or others that look like clay brick. Light-coloured pavers can provide a cooler surface around patios and pool decks. One of the newest styles offers the high-end look of stone for a surprisingly modest price. These "tumbled" or "antiqued" pavers as they're called can create a refined and stately walkway.

When considering walkway materials it's a good idea to look for those that:
