CORRECTION
No peanut products in Huggies wipes

Incorrect information was provided in the article, Allergies on increase, doctor says, Sept. 24, regarding non-food products containing nuts or nut byproducts. Huggies baby wipes do not contain peanut products.

New yorkregion.com launched

It's Thursday night and your family is looking for something to do this weekend. Where do you turn? To yorkregion.com, which has launched a comprehensive events listing for busy residents of York Region.

The site is publishing a rotating list of events on its home page, leading to information on more than 125 regional events. Maps to the event venues are included.

Visitors to the site can now also submit their community events, which are checked to ensure accuracy and then posted to the live site.

As York Region's most popular community website, yorkregion.com has also added a comprehensive public and separate school directory, essential numbers for all York Region municipalities, community profiles, town walking tours, a small games room and improved business directory.

"We always want to be improving, always adding features that business owners and residents of York Region want to see," said Ian Proudfoot, publisher of York Region Newspaper Group, which produces the website.

The site continues to publish breaking news and other award-winning editorial content from six York Region newspapers. The site is also home to more than 800 weekly real estate listings and money-saving coupons from regional businesses. Job seekers will continue to peruse the popular employment listings for leads.
