

Floyd album re-created

Darks Side of the Moon part of Classic Albums Live

The popular Classic Albums Live concert series is coming to Markham tonight.

Classic Albums Live presents a note for note re-creation of the Pink Floyd epic and popular album, Dark Side of the Moon, at the Markham Theatre on Town Centre Boulevard.

The concept behind Classic Albums Live is simple.

Classic albums are re-created on stage by an ensemble of accomplished musicians, assembled specifically for each album presentation. It is not a tribute act. The performers do not dress up or act the part of the featured artists. It is like a recital, just as a symphony would perform the works of Mozart.

The live albums show in Markham comes after close to two years of staging live re-creations of classic rock's best albums in Toronto and United States.

Nine musicians will grace the stage for the Dark Side of the Moon presentation to capture absolutely every detail of the album. Songs performed include Time, The Great Gig in the Sky and Money. Additional Pink Floyd classics will also be played live after the album is performed.
