Spartans caged in basketball qualifier

The Stouffville District Secondary School Spartans senior girls' basketball team were hoping to make a trip to next week's Ontario Federation of School Athletic Associations AA play-downs.

But Holy Trinity Catholic High School (Courtice) put an end to those plans Thursday by winning the OFSAA qualifier over the Spartans 45-39 at Stouffville District Secondary School.

Liz Knox was high scorer for the Spartans with 15 points and Jesse Harris added 11.

The Spartans held what appeared to be a commanding 14-5 lead after the first quarter. But Holy Trinity rallied to take a 22-20 halftime lead and never looked back.

"The girls played their hearts out, but the ball wouldn't drop from the second quarter on," said Spartans' head coach Sharon MacFarlane. "I thought that our girls did everything right. We had shots that we would normally make, but they weren't falling. The kids couldn't have done anything more."

Everyone should benefit with a sports council youngsters, but adults and seniors as well throughout the town of Markham.

Roth pointed out sport councils are not new to the province as other cities and communities incorporate them. As an example, she cited Mississauga has had one since 1983. The creation of a sports council in Mississauga, she said, has enabled them to create a sports hall of fame and even a sports bursary program.

"We can get as big as Mississauga's sports council. But it takes time," she said.
