Stouffville Says

By Hannelore Volpe

In light of the hostages recently released from Iraq, do you think organizations such as Christian Peacemakers should stay in war-torn countries?

It is a good thing to try to make peace, but it is difficult when you think of the peace workers' families and you see what could happen. I wouldn't want to stop anyone from doing what they believe in.

These people are doing their best to help the situation. It is the Christian way to do it. I agree with their motives, but I don't like them to be there because it endangers them.

It depends on what kind of work they are doing. If they are working in a more dangerous area, they should come back.
